"People are really open. They all help each other to be more spirited. Kennedy is cool!"
- Jordan Varela (06)

"We're not like other high schools that are really big. You get to know people easily from different grade levels because of our size."
- Priscilla Pulido (05)

take home the SPIRIT

Over the past year, we demonstrated that we were an asset to our community. Each student acquired unique qualities that brought us together. Diversity and individuality contributed greatly to show who we really represented... ourselves. Our intelligence and attentiveness excelled in the classroom and brought us to the top. "It is the determination and the hard work of the students that have made us surpass all expectations," stated Shezad Lakhani (03). Love of the game and physical determination led us to success on the field. Generous hearts and helping hands allowed positive contribution to society. With it all, we have come to the conclusion that...

We Are Everything!

"We all come together to work with each other and show our true colors. Our whole school unites to show that we have spirit."
- Michael Mercado (04)

"When we're on our own, we're not as strong as when we come together. We bring out ourselves through our helpfulness and integrity."
- Jennifer Chang (03)

"People get really involved in school activities by wearing our school colors and participating in extracurricular activites."
- Nicole Crocker (04)

"Kennedy is composed of really diverse groups of students and staff and that makes it unique."
- Steve Whitright (03)

"Too bad they're not real diamonds", says Ricky Rivera (05) as he takes off his bracelets. He used play bracelets as props for his role play during Mr. Yale's fourth block World History class.

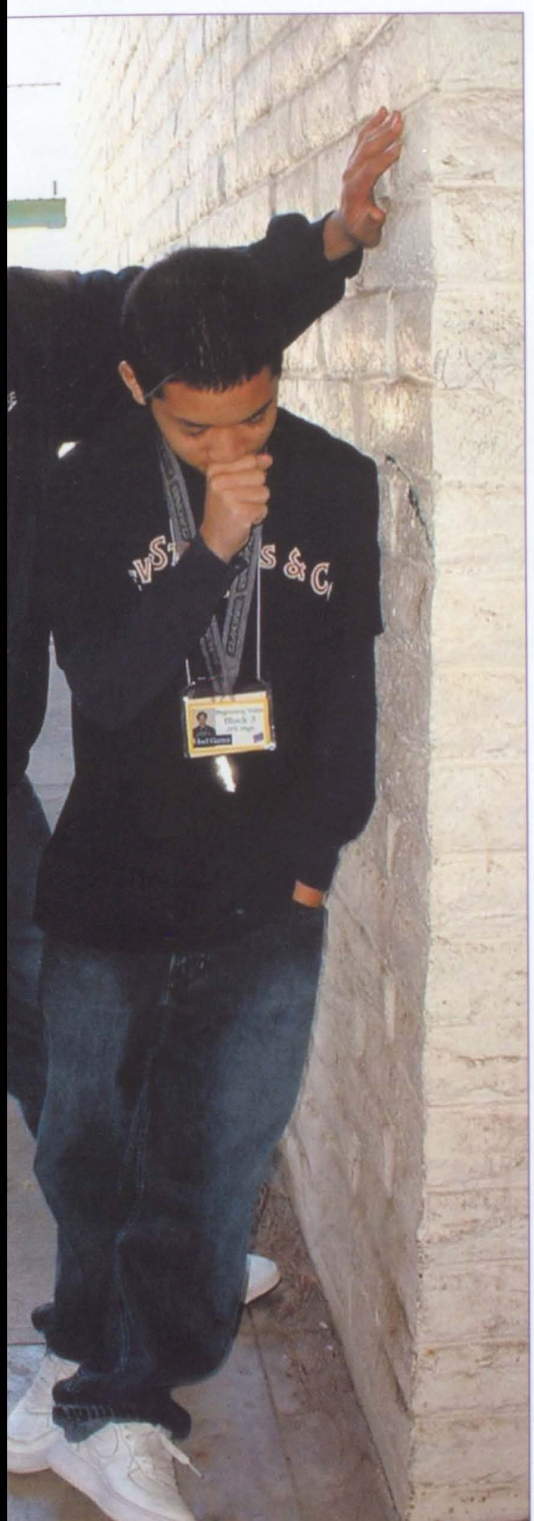
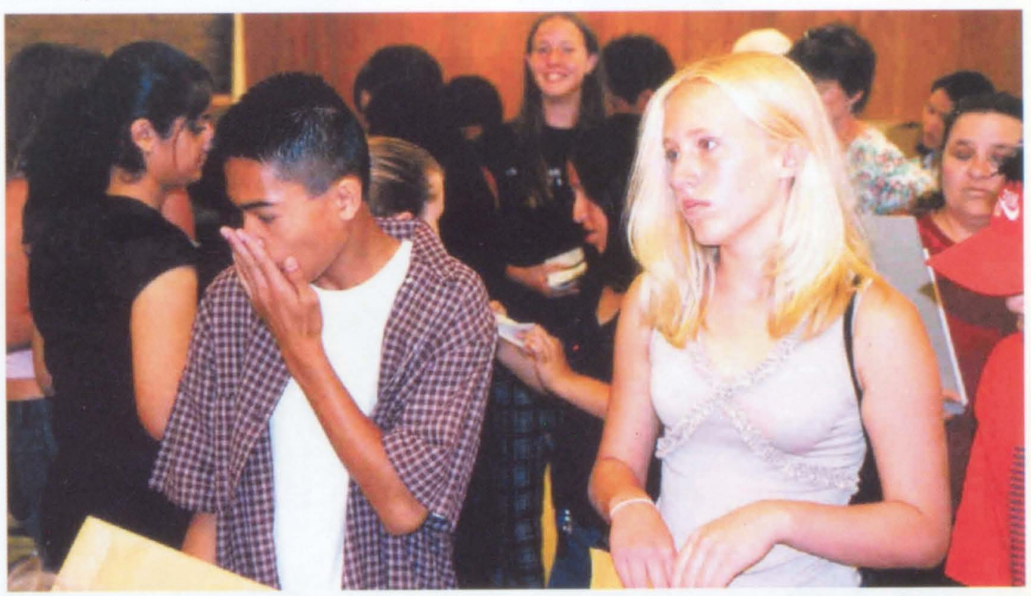
WE HAVE CLASS



"It's okay man!" Alvin Paras (03) comforts his buddy Joel Garma (03) after failing his first test of the year. What a great way to start the year.

After waiting in line for hours at the orientation, Arbie Estabello (05) and Sarah Lajoie (06) finally get their schedules. It was an aggravating and tiring wait for them.



After two and a half months of video games, endless nights of staying up, and countless movies, we all strained over the idea of starting school one again. Before we knew it, orientation was around the corner. With papers in hand and pictures to take, we went through the dreadful orientation. It was hectic for most of us who had to wait in line. "Kids kept cutting in line when they saw their friends," said Jordan Anaya (05). Then there were others who worked and organized the orientation. "Although it was disorganized and chaotic, we managed to pull the Freshmen through after a few greuling hours," said Simon Wiscombe (04). After it was over, school began and we soon got used to waking up early and spending hours doing homework. As days turned into weeks and weeks turned into months, we adjusted and added another unforgettable chapter to our lives.

super mario SENIORS

"1…2…Seniors we rule!" was the cheer that was passed down through the years. We had a high amount of spirit and it could be heard when you were walking; it echoed off the wall and throughout the whole school. "I thought the Senior work night was the best part of the week because we got to help put it all together," said Tina Thuen (03). Teamwork was what made the talent show. Michael Leon (03) said "My favorite part of Spirit Week was the Senior walk in because we got to do whatever we wanted and got to show everyone who is the boss." On the day of the rally, we proved that we were number one and no one could take our victory. "I thought that it was very up lifting for the football players seeing how everyone has faith in us, and I could see that we had a lot more spirit than last year," said Brandon Selph (03). We knew that from here on out that everyone would always remember the mighty Seniors. The memory will never die. We will always hear the echoes of the Senior Titan's roar.

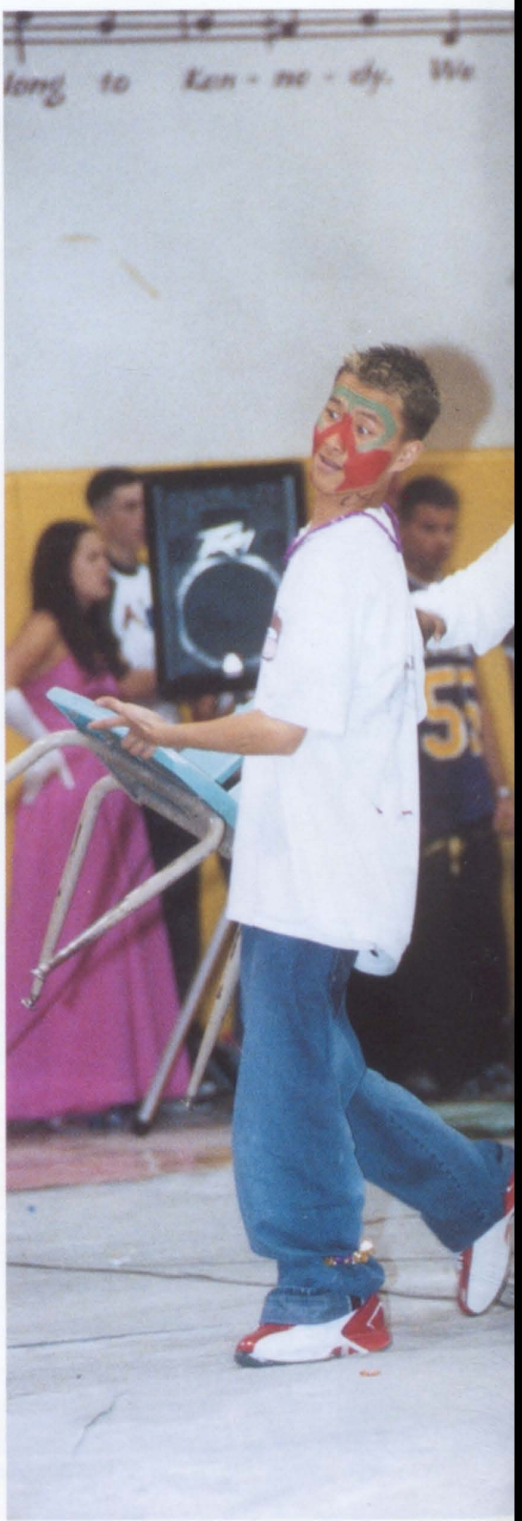
Elizabeth Kresin (04), Jonnell De Leon (04), and David Chang (04) do their part in their class skit. According to Elizabeth, it was "a simple way to help out when you can't be there to work on other things."

Ayessa Griffen (04) and Nelson Aung (04) show their spirit at the Homecoming Rally. As choreographers, this pair was full of confidence and energy throughout the entire dance.



Picture this: You sat around painting murals for Spirit Week one minute and battled to survive in the jungle the next. Whether you can imagine it or not, the Juniors did and ran with it. When they took a break to play a game with the freshman, a member of each class was suddenly transported deep into the jungle. Here, they dealt with monkey kidnappers, encountered a stampede, and got captured by savage American Natives. As soon as the situation seemed hopeless, the evil American Natives began to argue about how to prepare their human meal, giving the students a chance to escape. A well-earned roll of the dice later, the teens were back at their murals, safe and sound. Was it all just a dream? "I think we did great!," commented Vincent Carretero, "It would have been better if we would have had more time." Time crunch or not, the Jumanji Juniors pulled together and did a fantastic job, earning themselves third place in the competition.

Look, up in the sky! It's a bird... It's a plane... No, it's the Sophomore Superheroes! Everyone from the Powerpuff Girls to Batman was present to show his/her spirit, not to mention, save the kidnapped Titan. After a hard day of school, the Power Rangers were all set to relax until the news of the Titan reached their telecommunicators. Wasting no time, they called all of their friends to help them beat Evil Eagle and win back their spirit at a meeting in the gym. The conclusion was played out at the rally, which Heather Lozano (05) regarded as, "the best thing about Spirit Week" because it was "fun and exciting." The meeting between good and bad didn't last very long, as the heroes quickly managed to both free the Titan and replace him with Evil Eagle, leaving the bird tied up with his nasty plan in ruins. The Superheroes weren't the only people who worked hard to heep up the spirit. "We worked really hard on our murals," commented Jennifer Portteus (05), "and our shirts were cool too." Beloved characters, an exciting dance, and a fair share of dedication led the Sophomores in earning themselves third place for the week.

During Spirit Week rally a group of Freshmen can't contain their excitement while their fellow Freshmen involved in the dance to get their groove on.

"One...two...three...four...five! Freshmen come alive!" The sound of fresh new voices filled the Quad as the newcomers claimed the spirit cheer as their own. "Spirit week was really fun and organized, I really enjoyed it," said Firoza Rahimi (06). The whole week was a great challenge to put together and with everyone's involvement, it really turned out to be interesting. "I participated in making the murals and even joined in the dance. All in all, I ended up helping with everything," said Clai Sibley (06). After a long night of hard work, the Freshmen finished their murals and decorated the quad, hoping to get a good score from the judges. Ciara Pasta (06) said, "The whole Spirit Day came out a little shaky and we weren't as organized as we hoped, but overall it turned out okay." At the end of the week the Freshmen made third runner up in the spirit election.

all together as ONE

What happened when all the classes came together for one day? The gym went crazy! From the Senior walk-in, to the Football players, to each class's dance and skit, it was the most commotion in one place. DJ Andy Ponce (03) led the seniors in with a song that had the perfect beat for throwing flour. When the Seniors were done, the viewers were covered with flour, confetti, and silly string. Tiffani Stevens (03) blew the audience away with her version of the National Anthem. Melissa Reyna (05) commented, "It was hard to see Tiffani with all the flour in the air, but she sang very well." Each class had the chance to finish their skit and performed their dances that had been practiced for several weeks. "I think the Seniors did the best in the dance because they were the most together and it looks better that way," said David Wilson (04). After all of the fun at the rally, we showed we could all come together as one!

Paul Luc (04) is helping out the Freshmen class paint their mural. He spent most of his time after school, since the beginning of the school year to help make them look great.

You may not have realized how much hard work, time, dedication, and stress was put into Spirit Week, but some people were really dedicated to it. "I've helped out in Spirit Week in all four years in whatever I could and it has been a lot of work," said Josh Baker (03). Indeed, some students spent hours, everyday after school practicing, rehearsing, and painting. They used their own quality time to help make our dances, skits, and murals look great. Paul Luc (04) quoted, "We (Class of '04) got a head start in the Summer to prepare things." However, we were also very competitive because everyone wanted to prove how much work was put into Spirit Week. But everyone worked hard, therefore, everyone was a winner. When Spirit Week came we realized that although it was hard work, it was all worth it in the end. Once again, we the Titans proved that we had spirit throughout our school.

Homecoming finally arrived and our anticipation was soon to be over. The game was yet to be played and Homecoming King and Queen was yet to be revealed. On the night of the dance, five gentlemen, Lonnie Johnson (03), Joshua Baker (03), Joshua Chow (03), Michael Siegfried (03), and Eli Mendiola (03) shared the feeling of anxiety. Their hearts beat louder as their names were called, leaving only one nominee standing. "This year's Homecoming King is Lonnie Johnson," stated Pinali Patel (04). With that, Lonnie got ready for another momentous victory against the American Eagles the next day. The stadium filled with a spirited crowd who cheered on the Titans as J.V. won with the score of 49 to 13 and Varsity with a shocking score of 43 to 21. But that wasn't the only thing that kept the crowd on the edge of their seats. During halftime, Homecoming Queen nominees Cara Cuison (03), Lauren Jack (03), Denise Young (03), Michelle Fernandez (03), and Kathryn Choy (03) huddled together waiting for the results of the vote. But there were those who rebeled against the norm and tried to set their own trend. "I ate six burritos and four tacos," David Chen (04) exclaimed proudly. This was only a taste of the year's bizarreness. Yu-Jay Huoh (04) explained, "I kissed a guy." You might have tried to escape this unique behavior by taking shelter in a classroom, but even members of the Kennedy staff occassionally came out to play. not an ordinary DAY

we get AROUND

The first step to learning and getting an education was getting to school. Whether it's walking, driving, or riding a bike getting to school on time is your goal. Students had a variety of transportation such as waiting for that big yellow bus to pick them up, getting a ride from a friend or family member, pedalling on their bike, walking, or gassing up there car from the drive to school."I love riding my bike to school its fast and I just enjoy riding it", Daniel Lucky(04). Driving is the easiest and most efficient way to get to and from school to most of the students."Ever since I got my license driving to school is easier than ever" says Martin Young (03). There was less of a hassle for waiting or missing the bus and it was a lot easier than walking. Scooters and skatebaords became the next big thing as students tried to abandon the old ways of walking.

"The best part about working is the paycheck," said Daniel Saballos (04). Yes it sure was! Although for others who were privledged with parents who handed them money every now and then, it was great to enjoy our free time. Whether it's to the mall, movies, or just to our friends house, we kept busy out of school.

we've got it ALL

We've evolved over the span of our lives, from having our parents struggle to dress us, all the way to complete fashion independence. In high school, our feelings were expressed by the way we dressed and how we carried ourselves. "I wear what I wear because I like what I wear," said David Wei (03). Most of us had chosen to express ourselves with many colors, yet there were also a few who had chosen to keep it simple. "People that wear white clothes have to wear white shoes, its a color coordinated thing," said Adrian Casas (06). The styles didn't really matter, it was the way we wore them that defined us and the way we felt.

Whether it's a jersey, sweats, or a regualr t-shirt, Sergio Lawas (03), Juan Velasquez (03), Praiash Patel (03), and Josh Chow (03) each have a different take on what fashion is and what they like to wear. "Fashion, what fashion?" asked Josh Chow (03).

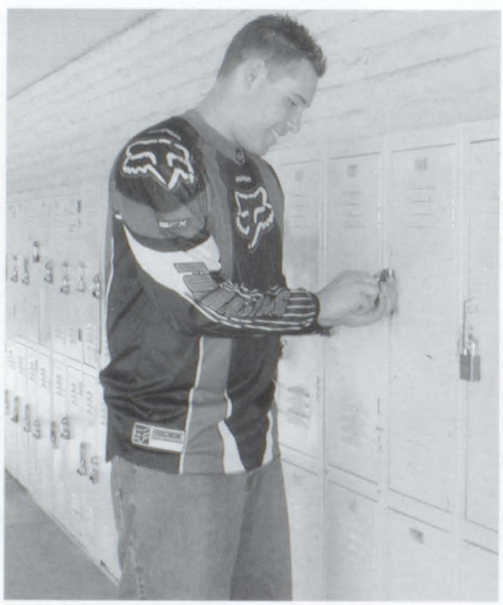
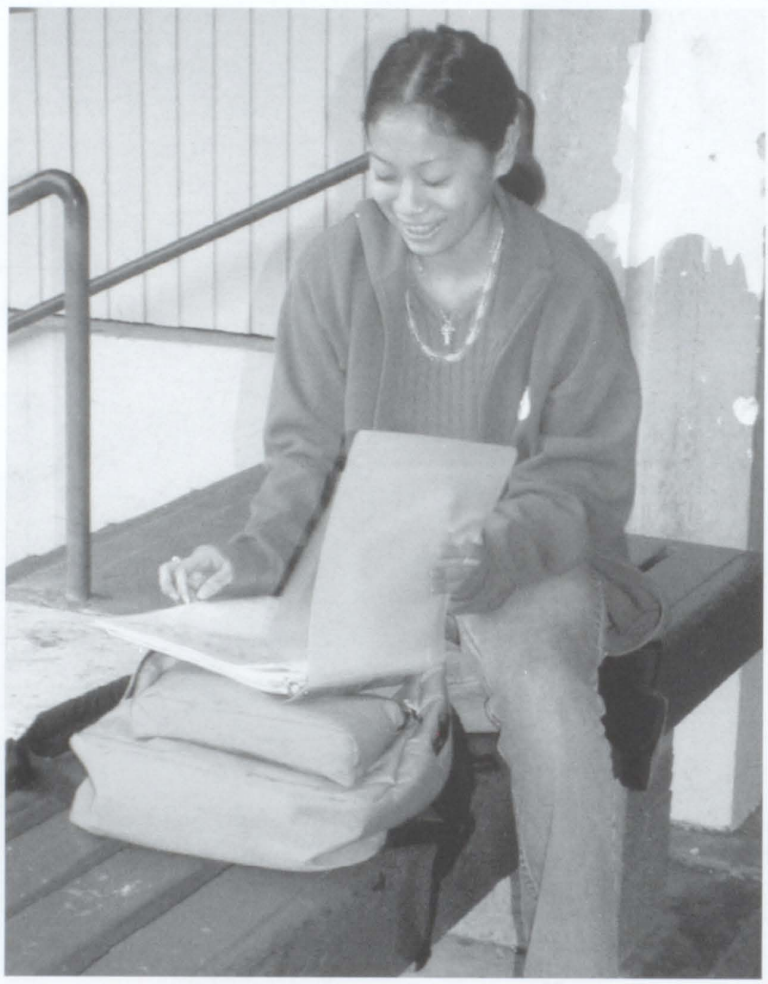
"I like the sharks because I've grown up seeing my dad having so much fun watching them," Jordan Varela (06) says. After seeing them win the night before at their game in San Jose, she sported all her Sharks gear to show what team she loved.

Jenny Torneros (03) is crazy about the color green! She wore it so much, you would think she was related to Kermit the Frog.





Guy Freshwater (05) never lets a day go by without wearing something from his Fox Clothing collection. He was trying to open his locker to get his Fox sweatshirt out on a chilly February day.

"I've like the A's since I was little because they were the first Baseball game I ever went to," says Danny Martinez (03). He was sad because one of his collectible bobble-heads broke when he was showing us his collection.

Carmen Diaz (03) plays with her Tigger snowglobe with a huge smile! "Tigger is just like me.. bouncy and always has a smile on his face!" she excitedly stated.

Most of us have at least one singer, band, movie star, or cartoon character that we have cherished since childhood. "Since I saw him play bass for the Murderdolls, I immediatly became obsessed with Eric Griffin," said Rachelle Wright (05) Though many students were comfortable sharing their obsessions with the entire student body, others chose a more mysterious approach: through bedroom walls covered with posters and paraphanilia that portrayed nothing less than ample admiration for that one passion. Your fellow Titans dedicated hours of their spare time becoming hardcore fans of anything from animals to clothing brands and football teams. "It is good, but if I was one of the artists it would kind of freak me out," expressed Renee Garcia (04). With such a big interest and as small a space as the bedroom, it was only amazing to experience the depth of our peers persuits.

can't live without THEM

titans with unrivaled ABILITIES

Have you ever wondered why that certain friend never answered your calls? Or never had any time to go out anywhere? Well, maybe it was because your friend had to spend time on developing a secret talent. All around our school, we saw classmates; some we knew very well, others we didn't know much at all. You may very well have been looking at the future multi-platinum artist, or the next Bill Gates. But everyone of these people had to squeeze in time to work on these talents in between schoolwork, jobs, sports, and other extracurricular activities. "Many people have talents, but it takes time and dedication to be good at it," explained Victoria Kwong (03). We should be grateful for these diligent and committed people who have entertained and amazed us. When they become a household name in the future, we can have the privilege of saying we knew them in high school!

One who was always there for you, in good times or bad ones. "Whenever I'm bored I go and play with my exciting dog Sage. He always wants to play!" Said Mark Russell (03). Our pets also reflected on what type of person we were. One might have stereotyped that a big tough guy would have owned a large dog, a snake, or something scary; and a nice girl would have had a rabbit or a hamster. This wasn't always true though. "I own a couple of small cats, 'cuz I don't like big dogs," said Weston Walker (03). No matter what kind of pets we had, our pets meant everything to us.

america through our EYES

"I am 16 years old and came to America this year. I've moved and traveled a lot in my life. I was born in Brazil, and then moved to Japan when I was a little boy, then moved to Hong Kong, then back to Brazil, and now finally here I am in America. Out of all my family, I only have an uncle who's lived here in America for the past 15 years. I think people in Brazil are more relaxed than here in America. It is also easier to interact with people in Brazil. I don't find it easy to make friends here in the United States, compare to Brazil. Let's just say people in Brazil are "Americanized." People in Brazil aren't much different than Americans. Another thing I've noticed is that there is a lot of patriotism compare to Brazil. So far, I am enjoying living in the United States."

"I am an exchange student and I wanted to try something new, basically it is a new experience for me being here in America. I came here on the 26th of August. I wanted to meet a different crowd of people. Over here I live with a host family, who happen to very nice. Going to school here is very interesting, teachers happen to assign a lot of homework over here. The grading system over here is totally different than in Germany. In Germany, 50% is counted towards class participation, and the other 50% is based on two major tests. I've noticed that here in Kennedy High School there is a lot of spirit, within the students. Unlike in Germany they are not very active. I was lost for the first two days of school, but some J.F.K. students were very kind and helped me out a lot by, showing me around and helping me find my way around to my classes. Over the past 6 and half weeks I've met a lot of good people, and made a lot of cool friends. I think California is a very beautiful place. I am from the west part of Germany and it's always raining."

I find studies here much more different than in Iran, like for example less tests and more homework is given. Over here everyone speaks English. In Iran barely anyone speaks English, because it is not the native language, I am mostly fluent in Persian (Farsi). I personally think there is more freedom here in America, than in Iran."

India: Sandeep Kaur (05)

"I've lived in America for a year and a half; I came here in May of 2001. When my parents decided to move to America, I was sad because I was leaving everyone who was close to me back in India. I already had cousins who have been living here for 4-5 years. I've slowly adjusted myself to the American life. Over here I am free and can talk to whomever I want to. In India there are more rules and regulations, like for example a girl can't have a boyfriend from the same school. One thing that was hard for me to adjust to was having male classmates. In India classes are not mixed with boys and girls. That's what made me realize that communicating with people over here is a little bit more difficult than in India."

Hong Kong: Ricky Li (04)

"I am 16 years old and came to America in the summer of 2002 because my parents had decided to do so. Back home in Hong Kong I left back my grandparents, uncles, aunts, cousins, and close friends. Hong Kong is a very busy place; people are always in a rush over there. Here we can interact with other students in our classrooms and get the chance to meet with new people, whether it is in or out of school. In Hong Kong we have no choice but to wear uniforms in school, here we can wear whatever we want to. I don't enjoy attending school over there; becausee in Hong Kong all we do is sit in our chairs all day long. One thing I discovered over here is that my studies have gotten much easier. In Hong Kong there are a lot of tests and homework assignments to deal with every day in school."

Weeks of practice paid off as we watched our schoolmates shine. We praised the dazzling ethnic garments that were worn and the music that was played. Throughout the week, students cheered on their friends as they strutted their stuff. That one week was what we called International Week. It started off with the rhythm of the Afghan club. In Afghan dresses and peyron-tombans, they danced proudly. "It's a time to unite and gain knowledge about other cultures," commented Mehvish Naquvi, (03) who participated in the dance. Each day there was a different ethnic club that performed in the quad. Some of our clubs that performed were the Black Student Union, Hi Intensity, Chinese Student Union, Desi, Latin, and Filipino Youth Coalition. Wednesday morning to most of us meant sleeping in an extra hour, but not all of our classmates could say the same. There were those who were here every Wednesday morning, bright and early at regular time, while most of us were just barely getting out of our nice, warm beds. Those many dedicated students that made up what was known as our Associated Student Body, aka ASB, sacrificed their time to plan student activities to make school more bareable; such as Spirit Week, lunch time rallies, International Week, and school dances. Rally Commissioner Pinali Patel (04) commented, "It's a fun, but hard job planning all of the rally schedules and lunch time activities, but its all worth it in the end." Meetings were led by our ASB President Sim Kaur (03), and with help of fellow officers, commissioners, and advisor Coach Webb, they were able to create a unique and exciting year for all of us. Senior Class Cabinet member Jeremy Kwan (03) remarked, "Because ASB is very diverse, just like our school, I feel everyone was able to come together to make this year the best we could." Titans with Heart

Not many clubs had the motivation and commitment needed to make a difference. But the chance to be a hero to people in need would not have come into focus without the hard work and dedication of our school's Red Cross Club. "This club helps bring together many people for a great cause. Volunteers come from so many diverse backrounds, which really shows how much support Red Cross has," shared Annie Chow (03). This was proven by the record numbers that turned out to donate blood at both of the annual blood drives. "I gave blood to help save a life or maybe even two," exclaimed Niya Johnson (03). Community Helpers

Members of Interact, the Leo Club, and 540 had one thing in common when volunteering their time to their various events: giving back to the community. As two of the three largest community service clubs on campus, Interact and Leo Club offered many volunteer opportunities to the student body. From the annual Fremont Arts & Wine Festival to Thanksgiving dinner at League of Volunteers Newark, members of these clubs learned to give back to the community and had fun at the same time. "We get different communities to work together for a common goal," explained Leo Club member Annie Chow (03). While 540 wasn't a club, it also focused on improving our community. It was a new program designed to pinpoint issues at school and in the community to work towards solutions to solve them. "My experiences in this club have taught me the value of patience when relating to others," states Leo Club Secretary, Megan Stephens (03). Using the knowledge she gained, she informed Leo Club members of new volunteer opportunites at a club meeting during lunch. Along with the other officers, Megan had offered members many hours of service and fun.

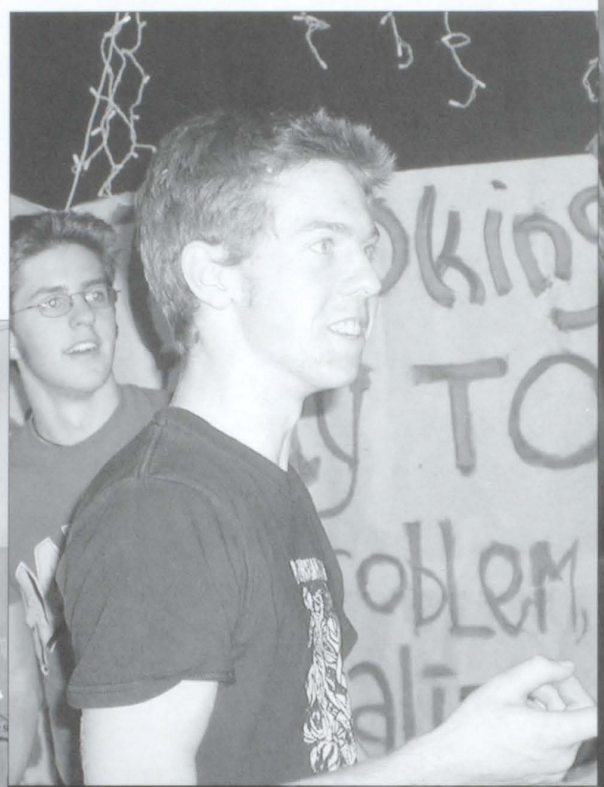
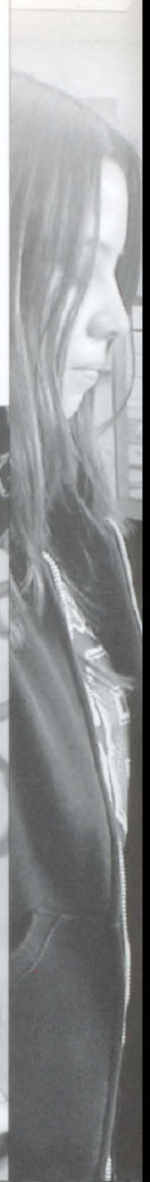
Showing her support for the Leo Club, Sabrina Rosh (03) helps recruit members at the Club Fair in September. She explained, "The Leo Club is a very productive and helpful club due to the services it provides to the community. I encourage all to join the Leo Club."

"What songs should we play next?". David Norman (03) discussed his performance with his fellow band members. He chose to express himself through lyrics in a song.

Natalie Harrison (04) preaches a little of her own words. She was just one of many who took part in FNL's annual Spoken Word where students express themselves through words, songs, or dance.





Joshila Singh (04) is paired up with a Walters Jr High student for a mentoring session and is happy to learn more about her. "I enjoy doing it. It's a lot of fun and at the same time, I'm making a difference in a person's life, hopefully changing it for the good."

Friday Night Live was a dedicated and non-profited club that had a major goal - to give everyone something to do. FNL hosted many events this year to give our students, as well as students from other schools, an alternative to spending their time on weekends. FNL hosted their annual Spoken Word Night that enabled students around our area to express their thoughts. The show was a success! FNL also had a number of students that participated in mentoring Walters Jr. High students every Tuesday after school for an hour. Spoken Word, the Boreal Ski Trip, Mentoring, and the Prom Fashion show were only a few of the events held by Friday Night Live.

What is knowledge of English good for?
Self-Expression.

Everybody had something to say; the trick was knowing how to say it. "I like English because it allows me to verse myself in great literature," said Natalie Harrison (04). Of course, there was more to writing than just deciding what to say, which was where the teachers came in. They schooled students in the workings of writing as well as understanding tools authors used, and in turn, helped students reach their potential. "The English teachers here really take the time to help you with the different aspects of the subject," commented Gregory Shea (03). Because teachers and students both loved what they did, English remained the favorite of many.

What is so special about a subject that covers the past, present, and future?
Learning that spans the test of time.

Most of the time, people could not understand themselves, let alone their entire population. This was why Social Sciences were so important. First, we learned about the world and then we got a little closer to home-studying U.S. History. "History has taught me the different cultures of the world and how they function," commented Jodie Henne (04). Then, when we knew how the world got to where it was and what it took to keep it there, we became well versed in Government and Economics. "It's important to know how the world works, since we have to be part of it," said Catherine McDonald (03). Because we understood these things, we all became better citizens.

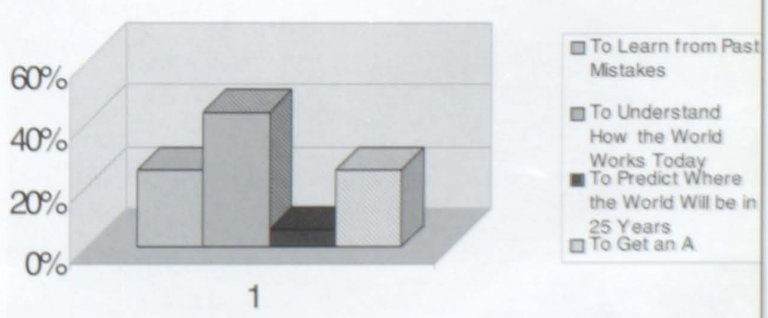
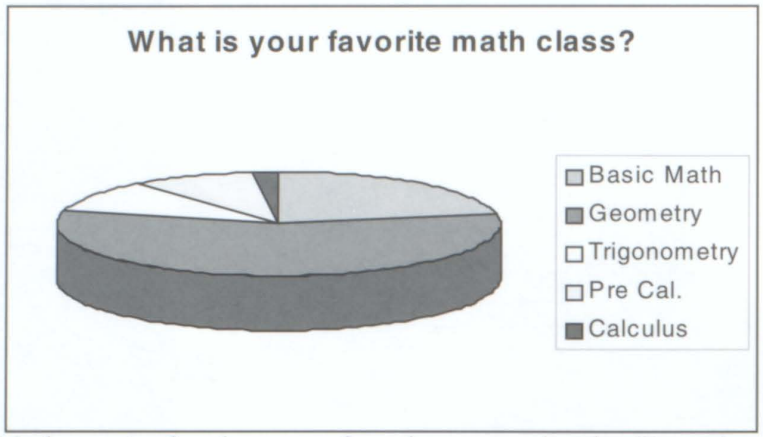
What is the Most Important Reason to Study Social Science?





mathematics to perfection

What would life be like without Math? Nothing would make sense.

Mathematics has been perfected at our school. Over the years, students have had the chance to take many challenging Math classes such as Calculus, or just Algebra and Geometry. Whichever class you chose was important because you needed at least three years completed in order to graduate. "I'm glad that during our Senior year we had the choice to take math or not; I chose not to, 'cuz i hate Math!" said Lanh Nguyen (03). Without Math, life would be a world full of miscalculations. Buildings would not be right, and this school would not have been possible. On the other hand, Chris Yates (04) said, "Life would be so much easier without Math." Whether you liked Math or not, you had to learn it because it was important.

If it's alive, it's Biology. If it exploded, then it was Chemistry. If it just didn't work, it had to be Physics; that's the way Science was. You never knew what was going to happen next. "We try to make learning fun in the Science Department, with demonstrations and labs," said Mr. Patton. With the relatively new block schedule, Science classes had more time to complete labs. "I love doing new labs in Physics, we do at least one lab a week," said Skyler Vickroy (03). Science was important for finding reasons in life that would be unexplained without the scientists of today. Whether it was a new project or an exciting lab, we knew Science.

expanding our minds

What classes can you take that would benefit you in the future?
A computer course, foods, woods or any other Applied Art class.

A Computer, Foods, Woods, and any other Applied Art class did benefit you in the long run. By being engaged in one of these classes, you saw if you were interested in having that as a career later on in life. "I am taking Web Design and I am hoping to get a good job because I am interested in web designing," stated Kisha Ballon-Ryan (04). She's like any other student that was in a class to see how it was like to have career in the Technology Era. Many students took computer classes. "Extra knowledge of computers could help me later on in life with my job," explained Avery Bustamante (04). We all needed to extend our knowledge and intelligence. Therefore, taking an Applied Art class had improved and expanded our minds.

How many languages do you speak?
So many languages, so little time.

Discovering new languages in High School was a very exciting thing, especially when we learned Spanish or French. Having two different languages in our school gave students a chance to learn the history and origin of a different country and gave them a bigger picture of other cultures. "I love French! It is a very romantic and complex language. Being able to speak a different language gives you respect and pride for your language and the others that you know," said Tyrone Botelho (03). Most students thought that dressing for P.E was a waste of time. Having to put up with streching and running the mile was no help either. Not only did the students get an "A" in the class, but they also took another step to a healthier future. "I feel that it is important to do P.E. for physical fitness and everything, but I don't really enjoy having a P.E. class" stated Chelsea Benedict (06). Distributive Education Clubs Of America, commonly known as DECA, was a popular marketing class for Juniors and Seniors. "DECA helped me understand more about planning for my career and future," shared Ken Schwartz (03) about what he gained from the class. The primary goal of DECA was to help students develop a "career success kit" which consisted of occupational competencies for marketing and leadership abilities. The students also traveled to several conferences and competitions throughout the year. "I love going to the conferences, traveling, and meeting new people. I've learned and had so much fun," said Teri Fleming (03), DECA's Vice President. DECA was a great opportunity to begin to take those much needed steps toward adulthood.

What is your next step?

The best step to plan for the future is to take an ROP class.

What to do? This was a common question we asked ourselves. Many students were able to answer that question by getting a head start on their future through the Regional Occupational Program (ROP). This program was offered to all Juniors and Seniors. "I enjoy taking an ROP course because I spend more time there than I do in any of my regular classes," said Matt Montague (03). From Auto Tech to Careers in Education, these courses prepared students for their future professions. "ROP is fundamental because it prepares me for the future," said Noe Leon (03). All ROP. courses were helpful to students who had yet to decide on what they wanted to do because the program gave a hands-on experience on what these jobs were really like. "I really enjoy Auto Body because it gives me a chance to work with my hands," said Jack Burns (04). No matter what their interest, the students that took ROP courses agreed that it was time well spent.

Tackling, kicking, throwing and passing were only a small part of the 2002 Football season. From the players point of view the most valuble part was learning to work together as a team and keeping that team spirit in tact through out the season by working hard on and off the field. "The teams did very well considering the low numbers we had. We fought well against many opponents that were better and the season was a success due to the team's hard work" explained Coach Pfiester. Along with the coaches, the fellow Titans and their families enjoyed watching the Freshmen and Junior Varsity teams play with ample motivation because of their love of the game. These young players managed to play with endless Titan pride by learning that practice made perfect and that giving up was not an option when everyonewas exhausted. The J.V team played hard and never gave up even when the players were hurt," expressed Jordan Moore (04). Whether you took the coach's, spectator's, or the player's point of view, it was obvious that the Junior Varsity and Freshmen teams deserved an enormous amount of praise even after the season was over.

1. It was nothing new to see sparks fly when this Freshman Starter Jesus Villalvazo (06) runs at full speed down the field with nothing on mind but a first down. "Football is a tite sport because you get to hit people and run them over," replied Jesus (06) 2. Practicing five hard days a week Cesar De Avila (06) feels no pressure running with the ball againts the Logan Colts. He fully understood his job and was willing to do whatever it took to make his team mates proud. "Football is fun because you can get stronger and get to hang out with your friends," explained Cesar. 3. Proving that size doesn't matter in Football, Jacob Mollan (06) does what he knows best, using his size as an advantage. He went right through the Logan defenders without being noticed and ended the play in success. "Football was fun to play because it was a challenge for the team but I had enjoyed playing." replied Jacob. 4. Bret Vasconcellos (05) throws the ball as hard and as far as he can, hoping it results in a victorious catch against the American Eagles. "The J.V season should have turned out better, there were wins we should have had. But now we can look foward for the next season." said Bret. 5. Knowing that a touchdown is in reach, Adam Karalius (05) dashes across the line of scrimage towards the endzone. Once again, he put the points on the score board for the Titans. "Our team started of small but our season came out big. We never gave up and persevered through every game," expressed Adam.

This year the Kennedy titan cheerleaders took off with a bang. After a trip to cheer camp they were prepared to take on another year. Mercedes Thompson (04) said "Cheering on our football team is always exciting and I love seeing the crowd get involved." With new coaches this year Kennedy had both J.V. and varsity squads. "The coaches do a lot for our squads and we appreciat it," said Brandie O'Neill (04). The ladies provided pep, smiles, and new spirited cheers but they were not your typical cheerleaders. Katie Moody (03) says, "I dont like the way cheerleaders are sterotyped. I dont really like all the peppy stuff but I do like to dance." Kennedy's cheerleaders led our crowds with lots of spirit and enthusiasm.

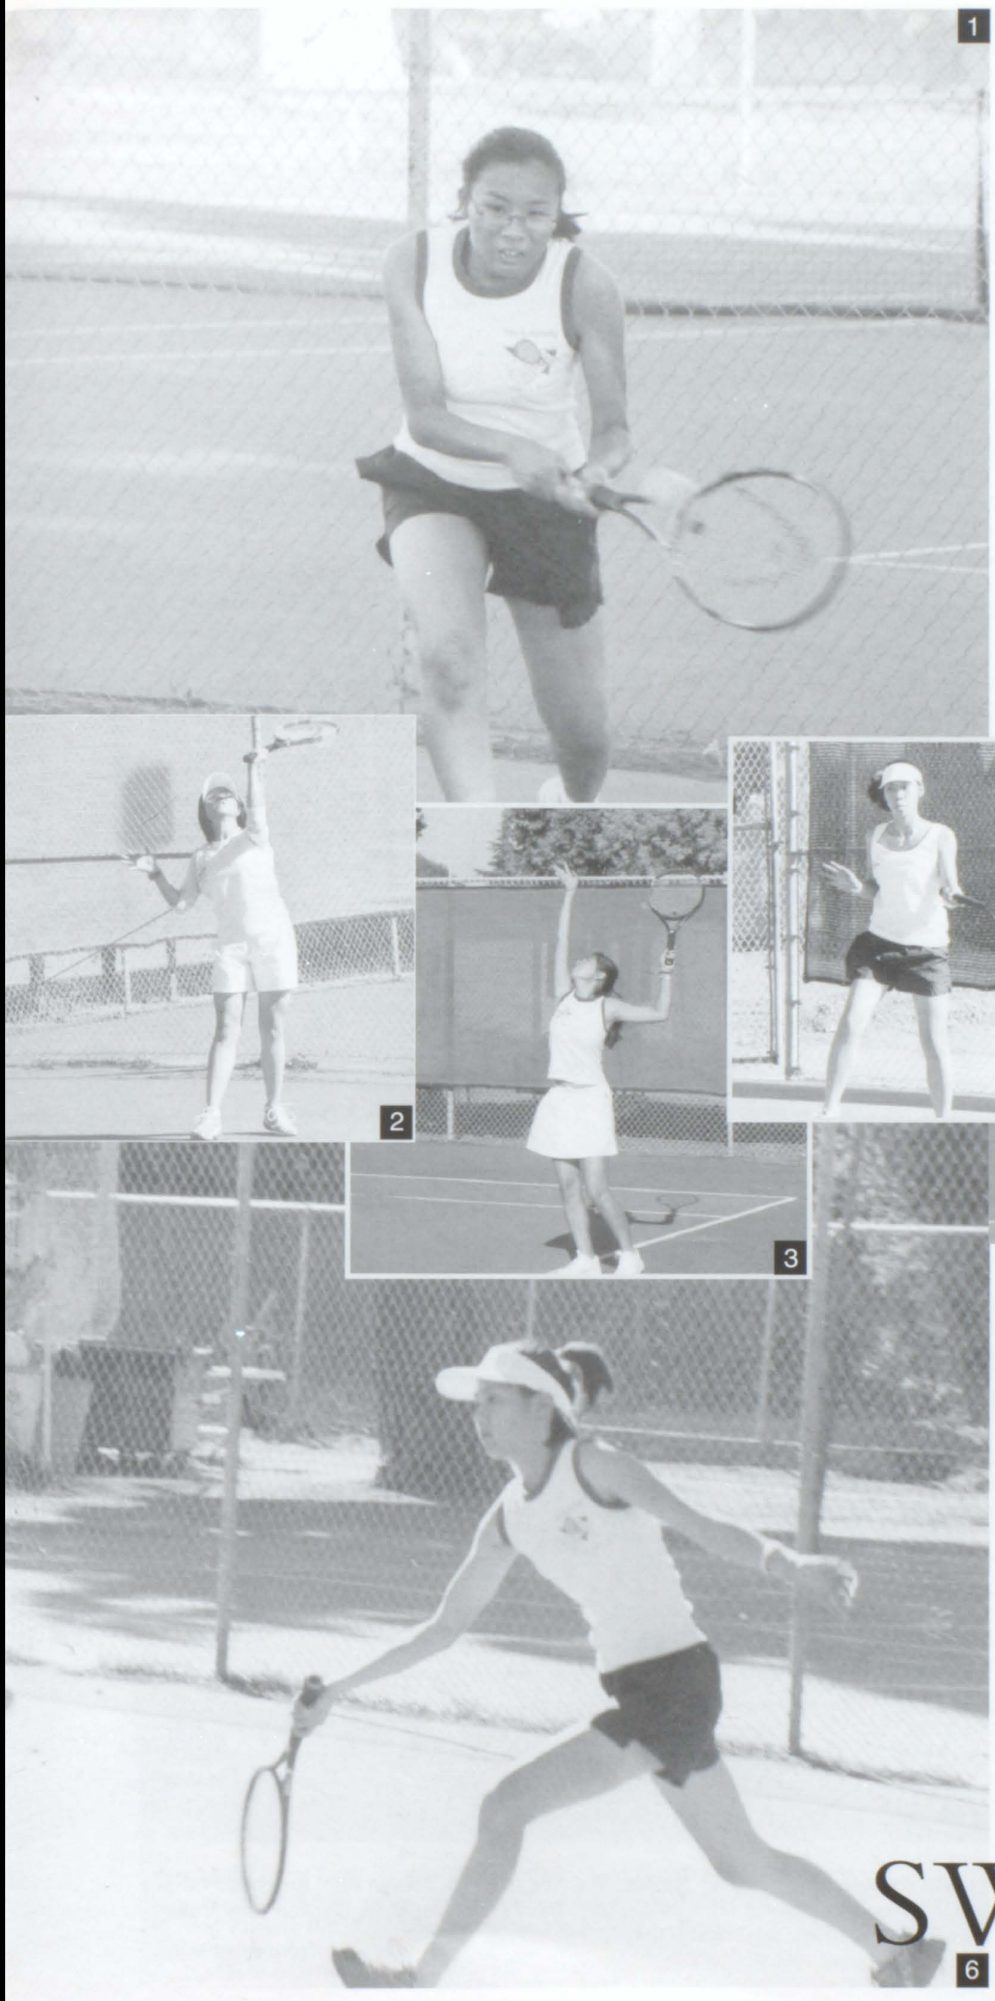
Come on! Bring it on! With full determination, Angela Nhan (04) stood in her ready position and waited for her opponent's serve. The look on her face showed that victory will be hers.



1. Phuong Hoang (04) runs rapidly towards the ball. She returned the ball back to her opponent with a backhand smash. 2. Keeping an eye on the ball, Helena Zhao (04) hits the ball down the alley. Hopefully this would be enough to defeat her competition for victory. 3. Ready or not! Here comes the ball! Kay Htun (03) throws the ball up in the air, pulls her arms back and gets ready to serve. She returned the ball to her opponent with everything but fear to back it up. 4. Koysharn Lee (04) sticks her racket in front of her and returns the ball back over the net to her opponent with a smash. Wow! That was a nice shot! 5. Anita Cheung (04) stands patiently on the court. She positioned her racket back and prepared to hit the ball back to her opponent. 6. Victoria Wang (04) runs up to the ball and reaches her arm out. She returned the ball over the net with a forehand smash. Fortunately, it proved to be more than enough to defeat her competition.

can you SWING IT

Though the team had lost many of their players from last year along with Coach Ed Stark, it didn't stop the team from trying their hardest at each match. With the support from their teammates, their new coach, Coach Marcelo Palmieri, and their assistant coach, Jay Patel, there was nothing to fear. "No matter who we played at each match we always received a lot of support from our teammates," said Jessica Andrews (06). When they were out on the courts, each of them had only one thing in mind and it was to win! "All of us were motivated to win and played each point to the very end," said Victoria Wang (04) Even though the Tennis season hadn't ended as they had expected, they still had fun and that was what Tennis was all about!

serving up AN ACE

Oooooooh ACE!" cheered the Lady Titans, as they smashed the serve in the opponent's face. With a year off, the Titans had a rocky start. But with the return of past players, the Titans showed their talent. "When we didn't have a volleyball team last year I was sad because I love volleyball and I couldn't play," said Nenita Lopez (03). Although their year hadn't been very successful they knew how to have fun. Antoinette Oliveira (04) said, "I thought our season was great and a fun experience. I loved every girl on the team. I thought we did great because we all got along and played well together." After coming together as a team the Seniors left on a good note. The players they left behind carried the team and followed their steps.

Laura Zimbrick (06) waited so she could be a back up in case the three teammates failed to pass the ball. 2. "Ciara!..Ciara!..Ciara!" screams the crowd. Ciara Pasta (06) put in all her strength while she served the ball for the winning point against the tough opponent. 3. Catherine Gentrup (03) yelled, "I got it," to all her teammates. She passed the ball to the setter, who set up her twin sister for the spike. The opponents tried to pass her spike, but they couldn't reach it in time. Kennedy got the point! 4. A beautiful jump set from Megha Patel (05), who was worrying if her set was good enough for one of her top hitters. 5. After Catherine Gentrup (03) sets up for the middle position, Ashley Alimadadian (03) puts in enough strength and snap of the wrist to kill the ball at the competitors for the point. Nenita Lopez (03) covered in case of a block.

ready! SET! GO!

Of the many sports that are played, no other is a greater test of endurance and pacing than cross country running. Although there was a lack of athletes on the team this year, each and every person showed that they were determined to win and gave it their best at every race. "The team did well during the season, everyone put their heart into the team and every game that we had. Hopefully the team will gain a lot more athletes over the years," stated Cam Chung(03). Though other teams were bigger, our Titans definitely made up for it with heart!

1. Come and try to catch me! David Murry (04) ran at such a fast speed that no one was able to catch up with him. He just hopes that it was enough for him to win the race. 2. Extremely exhausted, Chris Vargas (04), runs the race to the bitter end. "It was a hard race and we were a small team, but we never gave up and went out fighting like titans," said Chris Vargas. 3. You're almost there! Despite being tired, Ian Huskins (04), continues on, hoping that he will be the first one to reach the finish line. 4. Shan Jiang (06) was determined to continue on despite being tired. Although this might be his first year in cross country, he still tried his best till the end. "I think cross country was easy and Coach Stoopin was really nice," said Shan Jiang (06) 5. William Chwee (06) runs in a slow pace making sure that he doesn't run out of energy too soon. "This was my first year doing cross country and it was hard. I almost quit but i stayed in and did my best. Coach Stoopin and Coach M. were a great help," said William Chwee (06) 6. Come on! It seemed as though the Lady Titan soccer team prided themselves more in their great improvement throughout the season rather than their victories. "We've improved a lot and it showed," J.V. player Marissa Roggasch (05) commented. Improvement showed real teamwork. It's not just about scoring and winning but everything in between. Michelle Moore (03) expressed her feelings, "We came together and worked as a team on and off the field."

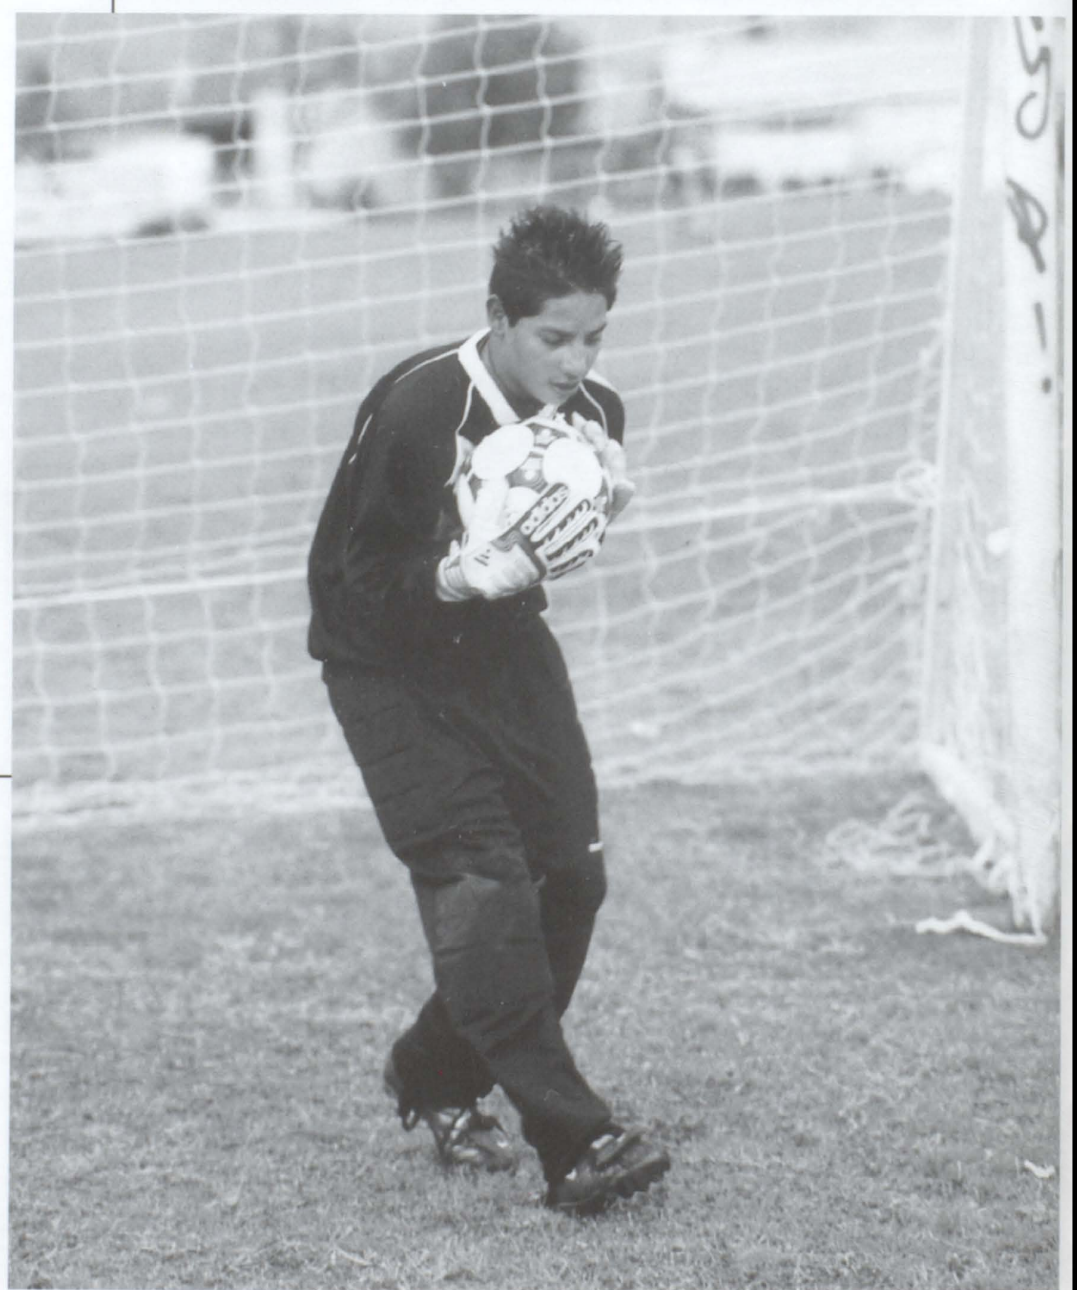
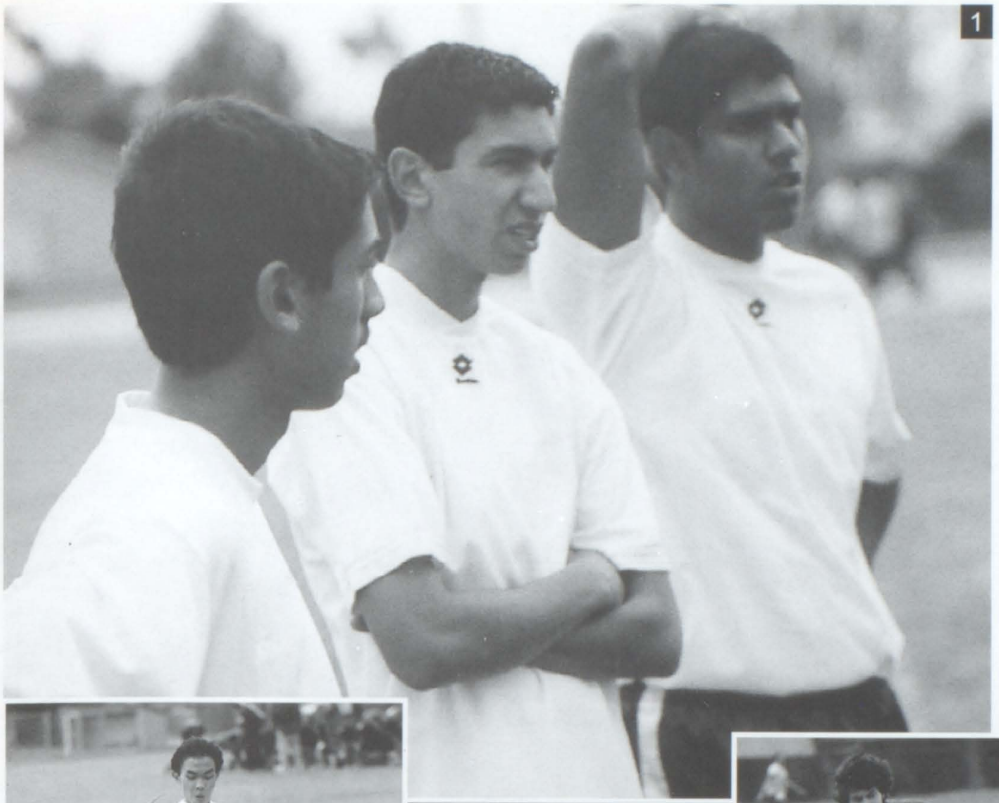
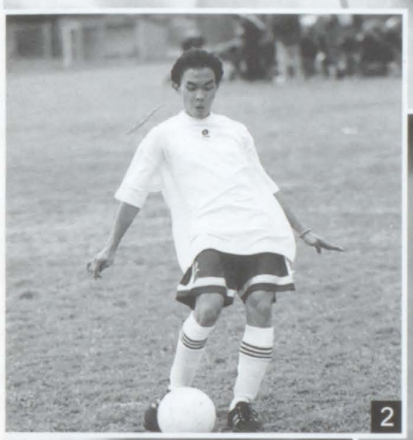
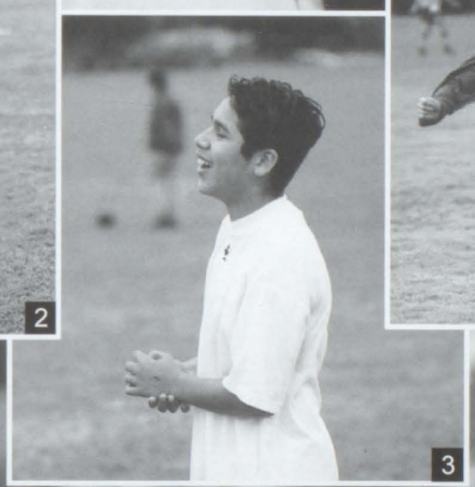
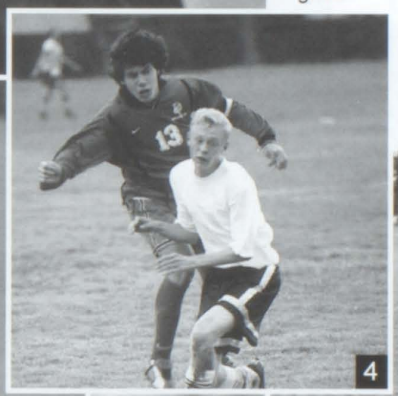
Nice save! Goalie Michael Rebolledo (05) managed to not only have stopped the other team from scoring, but threw it to a member of his own team, guiding his boys to the advantage.

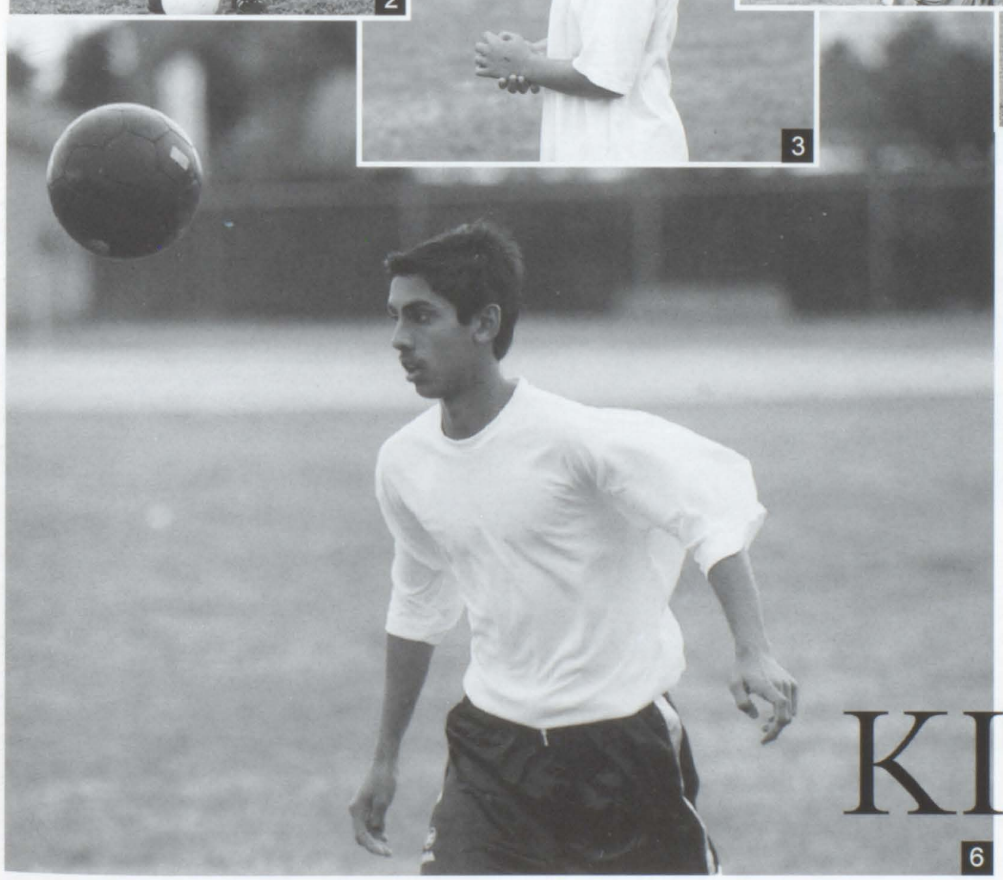












1. Dexter D'sa (05) recovers after making a clean head shot and is ready for the next play of the game. Dexter's attempt resulted in a great play for the Titans 2. Jean-Pierre Trebino (06) expresses his team spirit while he clapps and cheers for his team after Kennedymakes an amazing goal. 3. Benjamin Remelman (05) fires off a sure shot to goal. The Men's Soccer team worked very hard to project a positive image for our school. 4. With the other players, uneven ground and a head strong goalie all standing in his way, Yat Ming (04) sets up for a shot. Taking into account with all the obstacles, even kicking the ball in the right direction would have been an accomplishment! 5. With great determination, Jason Stemm (04) worked his way towards the soccer ball and away from the opponent, hoping for a win. Though the game was ultimately lost, no one can say it was for a lack of trying. 6. Anuj Chatterjee (03) and Jesus Garcia (05) looked on as thier teammates competed for a victory. The players all contributed their efforts to the game.

sharp KICKERS

Soccer was not an easy sport. Not just anyone could play. Players had to have great physical ability, be quick, and agile. Our team had to be able to run and take care of the ball at the same time. Jason Stemm (04) said "I like meeting new people and running up and down the field during the games." This game of skill and teamwork required players to find the open player to score. "This is a rebuilding year and we have a really young team, but we worked hard," said Jay Patel (04). Soccer was truly a team sport where all players must contribute.

Yet another sport that took up the interest of students. These students gave up a lot of thier time to practice because they knew that "Practice made perfect" as said by the Team Captain, Presley Yann (03). Afternoon practices and Wrestling games were possible to get in the way of the team's academic skills. "Being involved in this sport has motivated me to work harder to get what I want," shared Scott Williams (05). This proved that this sport was not in the way of school, it just gave a little motivation.

During the Mission game, Adam Pitre (05) showed off his passing skills as he threw the ball inbounds to start the play. 2. Only having five seconds to inbound the ball, Michael Siegfried (03) rapidly looks for the first open person from his team. With the coach yelling in his ear, all Michael thought about was getting rid of the ball. 3. With the time running steadily down on the clock, Ross Roman (04) takes his time bringing the ball up the court, hoping to waste the time off the clock. With all the plays in mind, Ross only hoped they scored within the last remaining minutes. 4. Determined more than ever, Paul Luc (04) passes the ball to a trusting teammate so he could get back and play his heart out on offense. 5.Trying to be a good leader, Alvin Paras (03) put on a serious face to pump up his team. Strength and aggressiveness is what they needed to win that game. 6. Matt Dimanlig (03) takes his defense very seriously as he dares one of the Mission players to try and get past him. Mission, not aware of the excellent defense, had to back down and try a different approach.

the taste of VICTORY

The year was not the big success the boys thought it out to be, but their determination throughout the whole season proved to be inspiring. "Before the season started, I expected to do better than we are doing now, but the second half, I think will be more successful," said Eli Mendiola (03). The team played hard throughout the year and were able to make it to the end. With only seven players the Titans proved what they were made of and what it takes to be a good team. Everyone was on the edge of their seat. The crowd was silent. He shot and scored! "The audience plays a big factor in our games. When we're at home, all our fans are there to cheer us on, but at away games, the people are cheering for the other team," said Aaron Bosel (05). Before facing their opponents, the Junior Varsity and Freshmen team members were confident that their practices, mentally and physically, prepared them for the callenges of their games. "Practices can be hard but still fun, and the hard work pays off when we play the game," said Qaise Mojaddedi (04). With their perseverance, determination, enthusiasum, and hard work, the team did a great job on and off the court.

"Besides the bad record and team that's still learning, we surpassed expectations," he replied. 2. When Lester Yau (06) gets ready to take a shot from the corner, he makes it with ease because his teammates were busy guarding the opposing team. 3. Jeremy Jack (06) gets the ball and shoots for two points to add to the score. "It was different experiencing high school basketball, but I think we did a good job handling it especially because our coach did so well his first year," he commented. 4. Jackie Chan (05) rebounds the ball and gets ready to pass it to his point guard. "This year everyone improved in their own way either defensively or offensively, which made it a good season," he said. 5. While Sean Boone (04) and Oliver Sotelo (05) trap the Mission defender in the corner to stop him from passing the ball, Oliver makes a steal. "This white boy can't out jump me.." he said. Sean came back with, "I think I'll get the rebound because his tail is weighing him down!"

The badminton team had high hopes for its future this year. Being a head coach for the first time, and with little knowledge about the sport, Mr. Fowler has put in several hours into perfecting the team. " I think this sport is amusing, even though I don't know much about the sport, I tend to learn something new about it everyday!" explains Mr. Fowler. The team has high hopes for the upcoming seasons. "This is my third season and I want our team to be number one this year!" say Linda Jiang (04). They will try to be the best team the can possibly be.

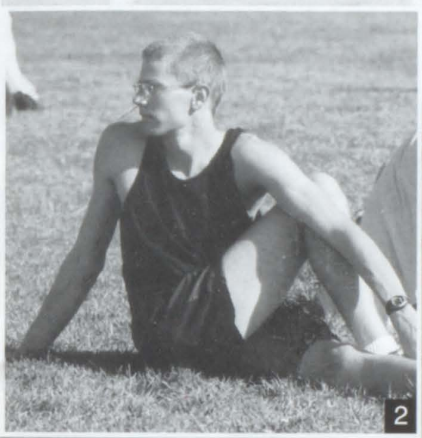
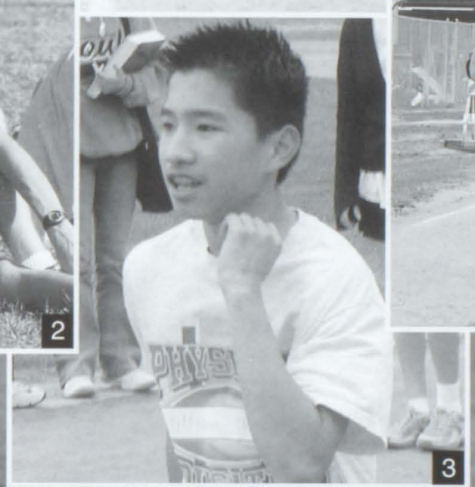
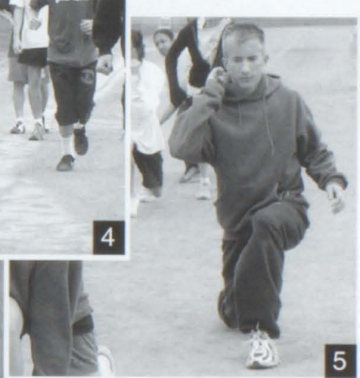
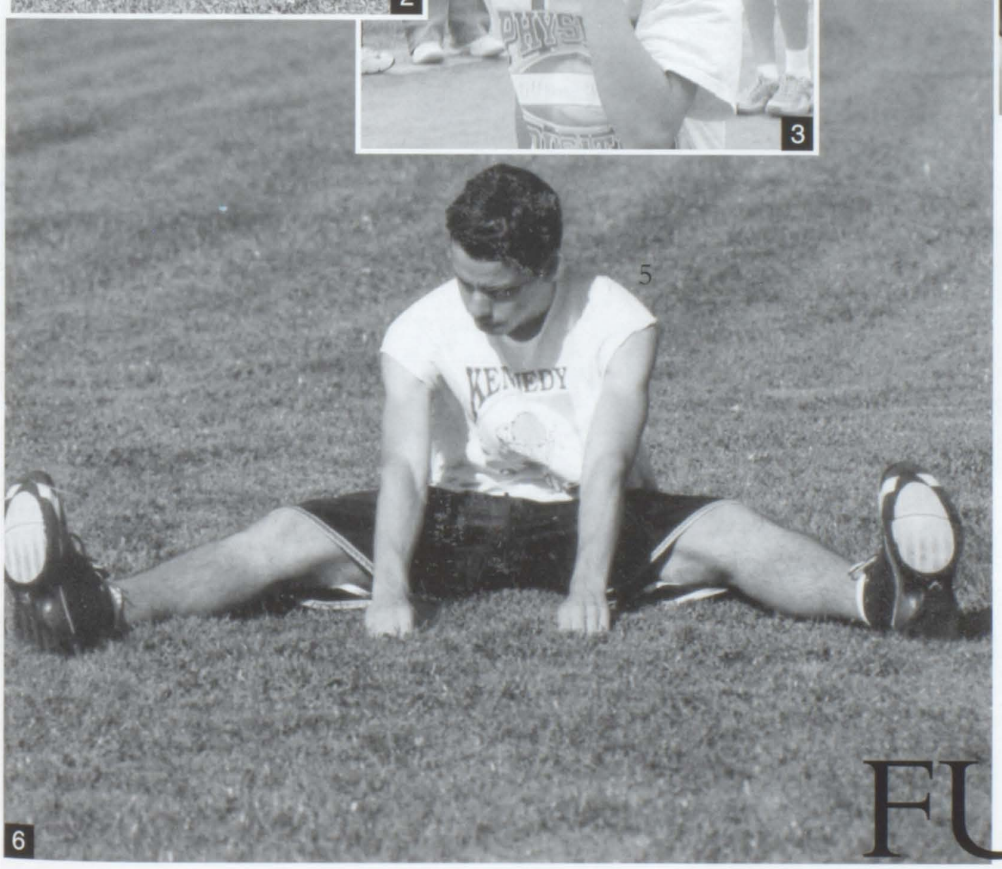
Crystal Chavarez (04) practices her high knees. A typical warm up exercise for track. This was Crystals first year on track, when asked why she decided to go out for track she replied, " I wanted to run track because it keeps you in shape, but mostly to be part of a varsity sport I thought with hard work and practice I could excell in."

1. Richard Borges (04) and Bryan Ricketts warm up for their next event with a friendly race. " I like racing against my team mates before I compete in my events, because it gives me a sense of how I'll place in my event," Bryan Ricketts (03). 2. Long distance runner Nick Remelman (03) has been on track for two years now, what's his reason for keeping up the effort? " Track is great, it gives me something better to do than sit at home and watch TV." 3. When Arbie Estabillo (05) was asked what his favorite event in track was he answered," Well I've been on track for two years now, so I've familiarized myself with most events, if I had to choose one event I would have to say the four by four relay, because it's a team effort." 4. "Track keeps me very focused, it makes me look more at my self than because I'm competing against my own times. In other sports you rely on someone to catch the ball and such, in track your kind of a one man team," said Stefano Scalia (05) 5. Christopher Vargas (04) is a track vetran, he's been on track since his freashman year. His reason for sticking with it he says is " Track is a great way to keep in shape, and since it's a sport you do on your own, your not only competing against other runners, but against your own time." 6. "It's very important to stretch before every run. A year ago I pulled my hamstring during a race for not stretching beforehand. Now I make sure to always stretch," Franco Curiel (04).









And they're off with lightning speed at the sound of the shot, and aren't seen again until the finish line. Track and Field is a sport in which practice is eminent. "How do you expect to beat the guys your racing against at meets, if you can't beat your own times at practice?," Devonte Thomas (05) asks. He makes a strong point; edurance, speed, and strength are the words most commonly tied to this sport. Track is made up of many events, the main catergories include sprints, hurdles, long distance, throwing, and jumping. Our track team spreads itself throughout the many events of Track and Field. "My favorite event, if I had to choose would probably be the four by one relay," said Maisha Ollison (04). Maisha is also a sprinter for them team. So, will the practice and hard work pay off? We believe so, good luck Titans.

Varsity Baseball faced another year, as coaches, players, and fans alike headed eagerly to the field. "This year I was surprised at how we started to look like a team so early in the year," says Brian LaTreille (04). The initial excitement gave way to higher levels of focus and dedication. Mike Siegfried (03) commented, "We worked hard everyday in practice and it showed on the field." The season had a promising start, leaving the Varsity team 5 wins-0 losses almost immediately. Staff favorites

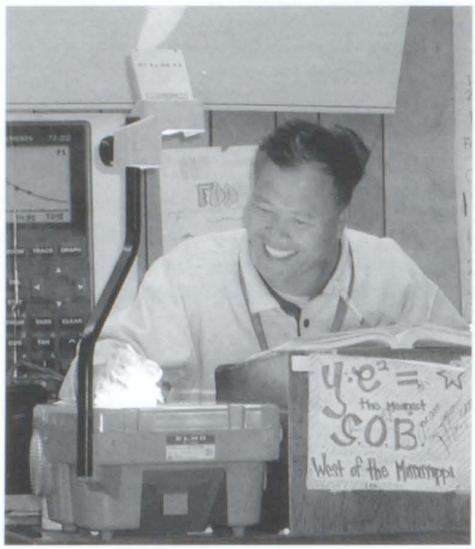
Most Humorous

Mr. Henry Yee
"Mr. Yee's hilarious. Him and his Little Jonny jokes are great!"
- Venecia Allen (03)



"My minus point system seems to be pretty popular," giggled Mr. Yee.

Most Dedicated

Coach Pete Michaletos
"Coach Mike is a very caring guy on and off the field."
- Christian Villagomez (03)

"I like the individual activities, like Badminton and Tennis, Swimming too. Team sports are harder in P.E. I'd like to be able to teach Golf," exclaimed Coach Mike.

Leader of the Pack

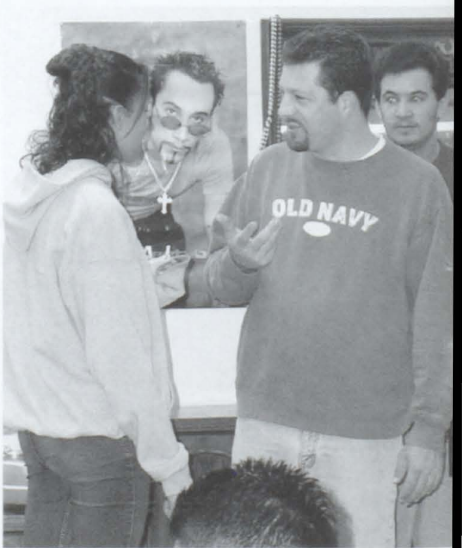
Mrs. Corrine Waller
Mrs. Waller is an awesome teacher and she's always giving her best attitude toward a situation."
- Kevin Lee (03)

"My favorite assignment is the final project for Dante's Inferno. Students get to create their own versions of Hell based on the novel. It's great because I get to see what's going on inside their heads," protested Mrs. Waller.

Best Story Teller

Mr. Fowler
"Whenever I try to ask him a question, he always ends up telling me a story about himself. It's hilarious!"

- Amber McGee (04)



"My favorite activity is for my students to come up with their own stories using their imagination and knowledge. Whether it be on stage, in writing, or on video," stated Mr. Fowler.

Best Dressed

Mrs. Olivia Santillan

"She's herself. She keeps it Old School."
- David Wei (03)

"I give my students six projects throughout the year. It gives people a chance to show their other side. I get to see how creative they are. It mixes history and art," explained Olivia Santillan.

Most Outgoing

Mrs. Kathy Putman

"She is very nice and energetic!"
- Freddy Mirales (03)

"I have two favorite projects. The first is when students draft a bill and present it to the class for approval - just like the real congress. And my other is the Economics Sales project which occurs annually each spring. Sadly, we couldn't fit it in last year," explained Mrs. Putman.

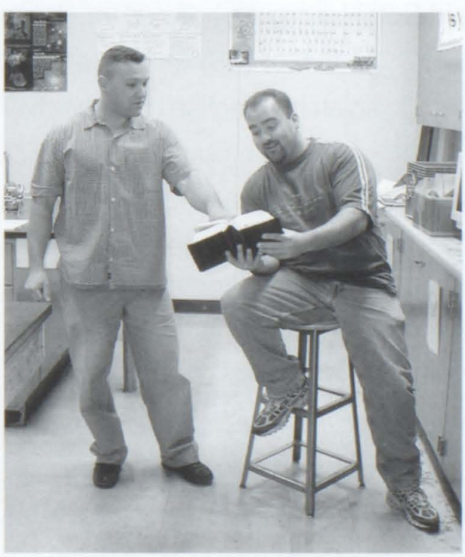
Most Organized

Mrs. LaDonna Rangel

"Every time I move one of the cats on her desk she'll stop class just to reorganize them. It's cute."
- David Castro (03)

"I like the Senior project because it reflects what they learned and I get to see their creativity and their knowledge of the material," Mrs. Rangel said in an organized fashion.

Best Friends



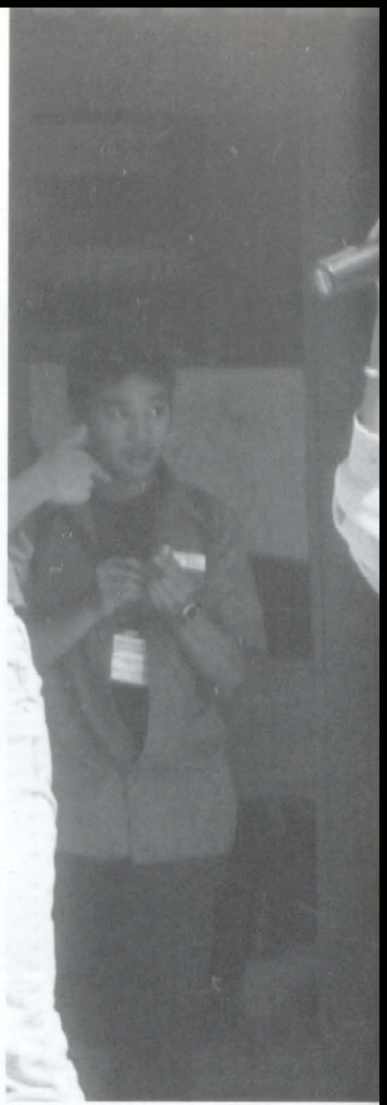
Mr. Tony Stoopin & Mr. Russel Pfiester

"They can't be separated. They are like peanut butter and jelly!"
- Nick Schneider (03)

"Creating your world with plate tectonics. My thing that has the kids use their creativity. It shows we who they are and what they are into. That's what I like to see," stated Mr. Stoopin.

Freshmen have Courage

Start learning the tricks because your the Class of 2006!



1. During the Freshmen Election day, Lita Vo (06) gives an inspirational speech. Lita worked very hard because she wanted to be elected for cabinet. "I was very nervous when I was giving my speech in front of everybody, but after it was over I felt good," said Lita Vo (06). 2. During Coach Mike's third block P.E. class, Son Hoang (06) plays an important game of football. Son was scoping out the field so he could find a teammate to complete a touchdown pass. "It is tough being a freshman because everybody else is more superior than I am," said Son Hoang (06). 3. At lunch time, Shawn Megofna (06) and Bryce Baker (06) hang out in the dungeon. Shawn was trying to finish his English homework while Bryce was munching on his chocolate chip granola bar. "We like being freshmen because we are starting fresh at a new school," said Shawn Megofna (06) and Bryce Baker (06) 4. Taking a short breath, Jessica Andrews (06) is about to say what is on her mind. "Being a freshmen is fun because I have a chance to meet many new people," said Jessica Andrews (06). 5. While furthering his education, William Chwee (06) pays close attention to what Mr. Stoopin is saying. William took exceptional notes on acids and bases so he could get an "A" on his next science test. "Being a freshman is a lot harder than being in Junior high because I came from being on top to being on the bottom," said William Chwee (06).

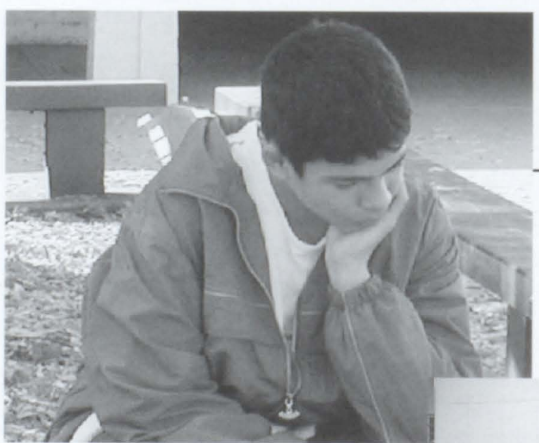
Steppingup

Freshmen climbing the ladder



" One thing I dislike about being a Freshman is that we don't get as many privileges as the Juniors and Seniors do." Cesar De Avila (06) was dissapointed that he and his fellow classmates got the last chance in electives.

"You don't have much of a choice during lunchtime, either 7- eleven or Jack in the Box. Most of us have to wait another year or two before we start driving," said Lauren Worthington (06).

"Knowing the fact that we have three more years to go, it stresses me out because it seems like an eternity." Though Vanessa Haro (06) felt this way about her Freshman year, she tended to look forward to becoming a Senior.

"I've realized that High School life is much harder, compared to Junior High. I think the classes get tougher, and so do the teachers. I can't imagine what will happen next year," exclaimed Jeremy Jack (06) as he put the year in perspective.

"Consider yourself really lucky if you and your friend end up in any of the same classes." Zeshan Nusrat (06) and his best friend Zaki Farid (06) try to catch up on lost time because this was the first year they didn't have any classes together.

"You only get to meet up with your close friends during passing period or lunch."

- Zaki Farid (06)

Most Freshmen think of their age as a disadvantage during lunch. "Even though I don't have a car, I still try to make the best out of lunch with my friends," stated AnnaMarie Spencer (06).

WHAT ADVICE DO YOU HAVE FOR INCOMING FRESHMEN?

1. Noe Reynoso (06) points out that in order to make it through High School successfully, "You need to keep a positive mindset, no matter what turns you down, you always have to keep your head up." 2. "It's the same as Junior High, except for the heavier work load," explains Megan Roman (06). 3. Now speaking as an insider, Raul Martinez (06) cautions the incoming Freshmen, " Watch out for the bigger kids because you might get picked on, maybe by me!" 4. Albert Demello (06) advises, "Just go with the flow and never look as if you're lost." 5. With all the suggestions coming in right and left, Hadia Salak (06) provides a few words of comfort, "Don't be nervous, be yourself and you'll eventually get used to the crazy schedule." Though so much advise can overwhelm anyone, these Freshmen learned that fast paced thinking was a must!

A YEAR IN OUR SHOES

OUR LIVES AS FRESHMEN

1. Claiborne Sibley (06) sips his soda with attitude as he spends his lunch with friends near their lockers. 2. These students, Jacqleen Salinas (06), Alejandro Garibay (06), and Ravinder Singh (06) pay close attention to a lecture in Mr. Stoopin's science class. 3. Freshman Quarterback, Jacob Mullan, gets ready to start a play in a game against the Logan Colts. 4. Waiting for the bell to ring, Diana Ruiz (06) and Jeremy Jack (06) socialize in the infamous "Freshmen Dungeon". They spent most of their passing periods and lunches hanging out here. 5. Tara Glick (06) and Tannis Martinez (06) help clean up the Quad after lunch on Freshmen Day of Spirit Week. They worked slow after a long night, but got the job done.

A group of Freshmen gather together in front of the Round Room on orientation day. The group was led on a tour throughout the school to introduce them to the many important places on campus. ASB members acted as the tour leaders and helped the Freshmen feel a little more comfortable with the school.

Q & A

Q. What was your biggest fear of becoming a Freshman?

A. Seniors. They're just intimidating, and I've always heard stories about Seniors being mean.
- Paul Miller (06)

Q. What's the best thing about being a Freshman?

A. We get to go off campus for lunch.
- Eduardo Gomez (06)

Q. What's the worst thing about being a Freshman?

A. You're on the bottom. Oh, and being called "Baby Hogan" by some Senior girls.

It is finally lunch time! Son Hoang (06) and Shawn Megofna (06) take a walk around school looking for their friend. While they walked, they had a chat about what they were going to do after school before the final bell rang to the next class.

Finally the day has come! It's Election Day! Tina Lam (06) stands in front of the Library nervously giving her speech to her classmates. After all the hard work during Election Day, it was well worth it. "It was scary, but I'm glad I won", said Tina.

Sophomores have Potential

These sophmores are halfway through their high school careers. Only two more years of experience left!

1. Marcie Tran (05) yells "Hurry up and record!" jokingly to Abbas Asalati (05). They were making a video for the new "Nelly and Kelly" song for Mr. Bryant's 3rd period class by the bench outside the library. 2. Lauren Taylor (05) stops to laugh at a joke she hears while walking to her 2nd period class,"That's the funniest thing I've heard all day!" she told her friend. 3. "Have you seen that new custodian, Nick?" Anna Wilharm (05) asked Cassie Griffith (05) as they share a bag of chips and talked about what's new in the quad during brunch. 4. Myra Grant (05) expresses how she felt this year as a sophomore as she walked from the bathroom. "I feel that I have a lot more opportunities as a sophomore." 5. Crystal Leon (05) concentrates as she workes on a drawing for her art class. When she was describing her class, she said "Art is easy. All I have to do is draw pictures."

What was your favorite cartoon as a kid and why? TOP 5

"I would have to say, Dragon Ball Z, I liked the characters."
- Renessa Wiley (05)

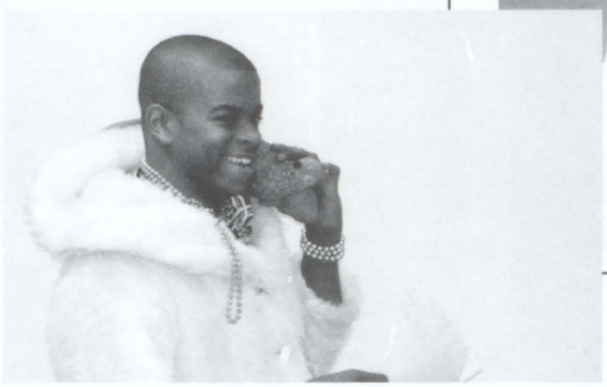
"Winnie The Pooh all the way! That bear can't be any cuter!"
- Krystina Ferriera (05)

"Doug, he was really shy, but expressed himself in detail."
- Sukhbir Sidhu (05)

"Mickey Mouse! Because he was mysterious and naughty."
- Ramandeep Kaur (05)

"I didn't have one as a kid, but now my favorite is Sponge Bob!"
- Robin Rogers (05)

"I had so many favorite cartoons that I can hardly remember them all by memory. But the one I loved the most was Winnie The Pooh, he was always cute and the other characters were funny." Like Patricia Canela (05), many of us find it hard to remember our favorite cartoons. Maybe it was because we had established new favorites.



Antoine Campbell (05) takes a trip down memory lane, as he says, "Let's see... I would have to say Looney Tunes, especially the Road Runner. He caught my attention because he always managed to outdo the coyote." With all the time and effort put into schoolwork, few of us found time to discuss our favorites, much less watch them.

Whether Lori Christoph (05) is working hard in or outside of class, she always finds time to look back at her childhood favorites. "My favorite used to be Care Bears, although someone already said that one. Hey, it should get double the votes!" Lori and many others referred to cartoons as old favorites. But the truth was that we had put extra sleep ahead of our Saturday morning cartoons.

Though most of us are forced to out grow our old favorites, Crystal Leon (05) refuses to throw in the towel. Her Care Bear shirt proved that old favorites die hard. "My favorite was and always will be Care Bears. They were cute and cuddly." Crystal's confidence and charisma allowed her to express herself to the fullest.

"I think Rugrats has to be everyone's favorite, why? Because I said so!" exclaimed Edith Escobar (05). She obviously had no trouble claiming new favorites and backing up her impeccable taste in cartoons with pure confidence.

"My favorite cartoon as a kid was the Ninja Turtles. I watched it with my cousins all the time."

1. Maria Gutierrez (05) listens intently to the presentation. "Gotta get an A on the test" she thought to herself. 2. Elizabeth Vera (05) waits while the other groups present their plays before she goes up. She observed the others to get some pointers. 3. Rachel Reyes-Delgado (05) explains to the class about cavemen and their history. She counted on her skills for the upcomming play to make the class roll with laughter. 4. Kenneth Yeung (05) tries desperately to remember his formulas for the big trignometry test so he would get a good grade. He later realized that he was a natural genius because he did not have any trouble with it. 5. Daryl Yann (05) goes over his last quiz. He was amazed because of the big, red "A" that was at the top of the paper.

"I like being a Sophomore because no one can tell that I am one, so they don't pick on me, but I hate having a bottom locker."

What would you do if you could be the opposite sex for one day?

ADAM PITRE (05)

"I would just chill and do all of the things that girls usually do. Put on make-up and brush my hair and do all of those girly things. Plus I would be the star on the girls baskeball team."

AMANDA LOPEZ (05)

"I don't know what I would do. I would probably go do the things that "boys" do, sit in front of the mirror looking at myself, go cruising with my G's and holla at some girls."

Juniors have spirit

Coming together to form the Class of 2004 is what makes the pieces fit.

1. Walking down the hall Avery Bustamante (04) finds Matt Schmidt (04) walking to his third period class. They greeted each other with a hand shake and a short conversation before getting back to class. " We have spirit, heart, and above all strong and lasting friendships. We are able to depend on one another, that's what makes us the Class of 2004," said Avery Bustamante (04) 2. Valerie Dominguez (04) and Nichole Harlan (04) had always enjoyed their lunch time. They laughed often and enjoyed the company of one another. "Class of 04 is everything to me because we've gone through these last 3 years together. We only go through high school once and we've done a good job making the best of it," said Valerie Dominguez (04). 3. Raihanna Estrada (04) is caught day dreaming in her third period class. She hoped no one would disrupt her as she debated with herself on what she might want to do after school. Homework or shopping? "Class of 04 is interesting because of all the unique people. We are all into different things but we all come together to form the junior class," said Raihanna Estrada (04) 4. Got water? Rickie Borges (04) refreshed himself with a bottle of water during lunch. "The junior class is different compared to all the other classes. We've grown a lot in the last two years, and made a lot of memories," said Rickie Borges (04) 5. Elizabeth Reisler (04) shows her spirit on junior spirit day. After having worked long and hard to prepare for spirit week, she finally enjoyed the fruits of her devotion. "The junior class is pretty spirited and organized, but we could improve our unity and communication to be a better class," said Elizabeth Reisler (04).

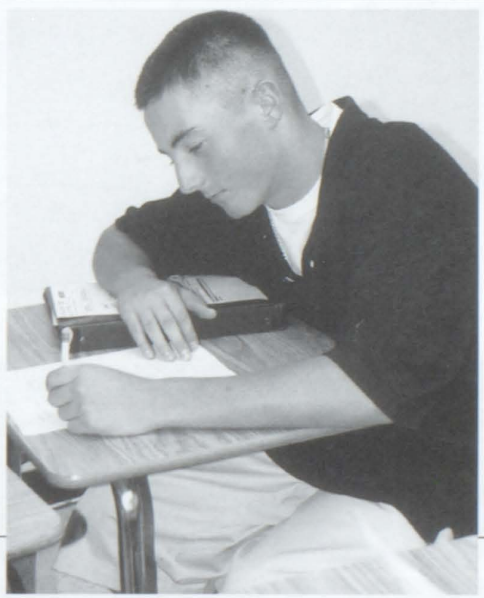
"04! 04! Juniors represent". Ayessa Griffin (04) leads Stacy Berger (04), Jessica Moore (04), and Amanda Forseth (04) into a spirited rally. Juniors proudly represented their fellow classmates at the Homecoming Rally.

It's just another day for these two guys. Jordan Moore (04) and Greggory Adams (04), sit at lunch just kicking back and relaxing. Campus was only one of the few hang outs for Juniors.



When asked what he enjoys about being a Junior, Kevin Ricketts Jr. (04) replies with "I enjoy that we only have 2 years until we graduate." Kevin tried to do his work yet struggled to stay awake.

"Being a Junior is fun because things are easier when you have more experience."

When we asked Natalie Arroyo (04) what she likes the most about being a Junior, she quoted,"I like the fact that I was able to get my license earlier than my friends and now, that I have a car. There's going to be no more hanging out at school during lunch." She made the smart decision of getting her licence at an earlier age than other teens.

"During my first two years at Kennedy, it seemed difficult to keep myself out of trouble. Now being a Junior, I have much more experience of how to run away from Ms.Veazey," quoted Qaise Mojaddedi (04). Although students tried to outrun Ms. Veazey, in the end, the students were sent to the Responsibility Center.

They tried to defeat each other in a game of rivals. 3. Shayna Khatri (03) Cabinet, Josh Chow (03) Cabinet, Cara Cuison (03) President, Michelle Fernandez (03) Vice President, and Jeremy Kwan (03) Cabinet. These class leaders all came together to talk about their goals for the school year. They helped us to come alive. 4. Micheal Leon (03) tries to be Superman by flying off the benches at lunch. To his surprise, he did fly a little. To his relief it was a safe landing. 5. Andy Ponce (03) puts some spice in the atmosphere with a little music that makes the people in the rally go wild. the next step

The next step after High School was stressful because Seniors were forced to make decisions about what to do after graduation. "After High School I plan to go to a Junior College and take a Nursing program. Then I plan on transfering to San Jose State to finish up college," said Anne DeLacruz (03). Trying to get into a college was a very long and drawn out process, but not for Maria Ramirez (03) who said that she didn't plan on wasting anytime and would go straight to Cal State Hayward.

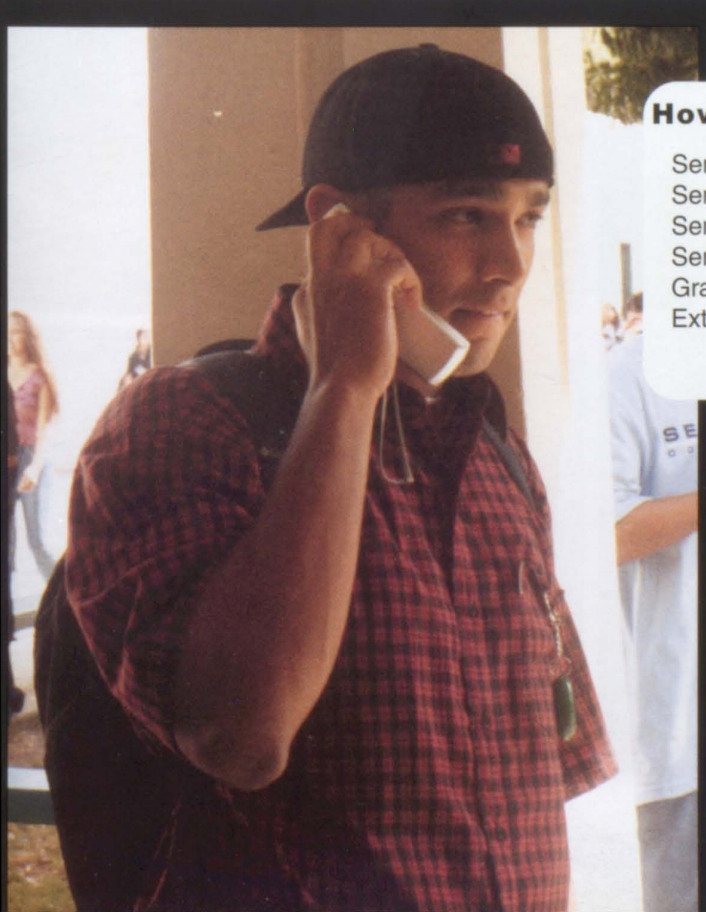
the price of seniority



"I need more money!!" exclaimed David Castro (03). Using his cell phone, David tried to convince his parents that he needed more money. He told them, "This is the price of being a Senior."

How much did you spend?

Senior Portraits	$100-$400
Senior Class T-shirts	$17
Senior Picnic	$35
Senior Ball	$250-$900
GradNight/Senior Breakfast	$30-$300
Extra Events	$30-$400

Total $575 - $2180

A Senior spirit shirt: $17, Senior Ball couple's ticket: $130, hanging with your friends before graduation: PRICELESS. Can you believe the price of being a Senior? It was the last year in High School and the Seniors spent all of their money before they even got a taste of the real world. "Being a Senior is expensive, but I think every penny is totally worth it!" said Megan Stephens (03). It really depended on what a Senior chose to participate in. Chris Bell explained, "I expect to spend around $300-$500 by the end of the year." Just remember what your money was spent on were events that happened once in a life time and it really was worth it.

remembering the '03

Seniors come and Seniors go but their memories are always around. How many memories does the Class of '03 have? As we looked back we realized all that we had done through high school. "My most memorable moment was being able to sing the National Anthem at the Spirit Week Rally", said Tiffani Stevens. Many Titans remember the Battles of Blacow. "I liked how we beat Irvington our sophomore year," exclaimed Christian Villagomez. All the memories may have been different but there importances were all the same.

Even though seniors don't have P.E. after their Sophomore year they still remember when they did. "My most memorable moment was when we had swimming in P.E. and I almost drowned", stated Victor Hum.

When asked what his most memorable moment was, Juan Velasquez responded, "When I sang to Stephanie Moniz at a party because I thought it had made her cry."

Congratulations. This is your senior year. We all are so proud of you Michele. You have studied faithfully. During these last four years. To reach your achievement. I know you are filled with excitment. I thank God for me giving birth to you. Watching you grow through the years has truely been a blessing. Look ing at you I see a beautiful intelligent young lady. Thank you for all your support. You have always been there for me, helping me raise your little brother Keith and your sister Ebony. Always being there for your older brother Tyrone. You have given them so much love. You have touched my heart with joy & filled me with happiness. May God be with you always. Your next step is planning for your future. Deciding what type of career you want. At a college or University, be a positive role model. I love you Michele. I'm happy to see you and your brother Tyrone graduating from high school. Seeing him receive his diploma on May 24, 1998 was wonderful. Now it is your turn. For your family to see you recieve your high school diploma. I'm thankful that your grandparents Duff, have been by your side all these years. They love you dearly. We all love and praying for you. Love Mom

In memory of your brother, Tyrone Duff
February 23,1980 - May 31,2001

To our sweet, precious, beautiful baby girl, we have watched you grow into a truly remarkable young lady. Your radiant personality is a testimony to your inner strength. God has blessed us with your "sunshine" and we are extremely grateful for you!! Mija, whatever you want out of life YOU can make it happen...We believe in you always.

With all our love,
Mom and Dad

MINH HOANG
(1986 - 2002)

When we honestly ask ourselves which person in our lives means the most to us, we often find that it is those who, instead of giving much advice, solutions, or cures, have chosen rather to share our pain and touch our wounds with a gentle and tender hand. The friend who can be silent with us in a moment of despair or confusion, who can stay with us in an hour of grief and bereavement, who can tolerate not knowing, not curing, not healing and face with us the reality of our powerlessness, that is a friend who cares.

experience the Magic of marketing with... Kennedy DECA

Dear 2002-2003 Kennedy DECA,
This year has flown by very quickly. We have come so far in such a short time. Everyone has shown that we are capable of great things; winning at competition, all our hard work in the community, and having fun in class and traveling. Officers, you continue to show great dedication for all the school to be proud. Seniors, we will truly miss your smiling faces next year, please stay in touch and come back as DECA Alumni. Juniors, we hope you continue the Kennedy DECA legacy and raise the bar even higher. To Nicole, your strength and initiative kept us going, you are a super leader!

Your Advisor and President,
Lisa Ketchum & Nicole Wagoner

Out of 21 participants from Kennedy DECA, 17 were recognized on stage as top 6 or 8 of thier category at Nor-Cal competitions in San Ramon. Tiffani Stevens, Nicole Wagoner, Ashley Clawson, Lonnie Johnson, Danny Easterday, and Michael Siegfried are just a few to name.

Skyler Vickroy made us all proud by taking home 3rd place for his written test, 1st place in both of his role plays, and 1st place overall. Other competitors recognized were Kara Rivera, Stephanie Moniz, Teri Fleming, Amy Attwood, and Ken Schwartz as top in their category.

Congratulations! Today is your day. You're off to great places! You're off and away! You have brains in your head, you have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose.

Cara Cuison

Dearest Cara,

Congratulations! We are so proud of what you have achieved: good grades, Class President, KCK, FNL, FYC, Varsity Volleyball, and Track. But thats just a few. And now, the ultimate icing on the cake, Homecoming Queen. Way to go girl! May your life ahead be filled with many more successes. Remember, you deserve the very best in life. Remember, too, that your family is always here for you, especially me, your "mommy". We love you from the bottom of our hearts.

Love Always,
Mama, Garry, Kuya, Ate, Tina & Chris

Jeremy Kwan

Our Dearest Jeremy:

We thank God for blessing us with a wonderful son like you. You were definitely one of the two greatest gifts God has given us. It's hard to believe that our baby is graduating from High School already. You have so many great qualities in you, which will take you far in life. Continue to be your true, sincere, loving self. May God bless you and guide you as you enter college and always. Trust in the Lord! We are very proud of your accomplishments.

Love you always,
Mom, Dad, and Jonathan

Izelhaze Herrera

Congrats!!! Izelhaze,

May the Good Lord be with you Always and Smooth Sailing...

Dear Zell,

Hey sis! Although I'm as tall as you, it doesn't mean I still don't look up to you! You make everything seem so easy, I don't know how you do it. I'll miss you. God Bless!

Love Always, Izette

Zelly,

Well, you finally made it. Wow! You're going off to somewhere and it's all because of your hard work. Try your best. Try everything you can. Just live right now. Just be yourself.

- Isheen

Jason Nuebel

We knew Jason wanted to drive at a young age, but we just didn't realize how much it would cost! Keep that drive along with your creativity and you will surpass all your dreams. Aim high and strive to be your very best! We'll always be here for you.

Love always,
Mom, Dad, Karissa, Paul & Tommy

Christina Lubuguin

Christina,

It seems like just yesterday that you were still in Pre-school. We can't believe that the days and years have gone by so fast. Your hard work, dedication, talents, and faith have all pulled off to bring you to this wonderful moment. We are proud of your accomplishments and we are proud of YOU! Our blessings to you. Congratulations on your Graduation!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, and Christian

Michael Siegfried

Dear Michael,

From a shy little boy to an outgoing young man, we have watched you the last four years starting as the "little brother" becoming an amazingly independent person. Your journey has been incredible. It's not often that parents have such an easy job, except for all the trips to the emergency room! Congratulations on your High School Graduation. Stay focused, have fun, and follow your heart and your dreams.

Love always,
Mom, Dad and Scott

Kara,

I am so proud to be your dad. I love you so very much and I wish you the very best in life. "You are so beautiful, to me."

Love Dad

To my beautiful Kara,

You have been one of the best joys in my life. I always wanted a daughter. I was so blessed to have you. You make me very proud to be your mother. You are becoming a wonderful young adult. I believe you will be successful in whatever you do. You have always been kind, sweet, and willing to learn all that you can. I can't believe this much time has passed. (out of high school) WOW! Life is just beginning for you. We will always be here for you. I wish you love, happiness, peace and success.

Love Mom

Kara,

I'm so glad that I have someone like you to share my experiences and problems with. You have showed me a lot. Sometimes I would get a little attitude, but most of the time its just kindness that comes from my heart. Thank you for being such a sweet sister. Love You.

Love Ricky

Stephanie,

Mom has just a few words to say to you. I want you to know first of all how very proud I am of the young lady you have become. I know it has not been easy for you with all the medical problems that you have had, and having to probably be compared to your sister, but you are you own person and I love what you have become. I could not imagine not having you in my life I have to be honest with you, we weren't thinking another child since your sister had died. We were too afraid if the same thing happening again, but I am sure glad that we decided differently. I want you to know that if you ever need anything any time throughout your life you know you can come to me. I will be here for you, I wish you the very best in anything you do or decide to do with your life. You are a very considerate and kind and patient young lady and I know that good things will happen for you if you work hard enough for it. God Bless you and mom loves you very much. You have made me proud.

Steph,

First I want to tell you dad is very proud of everything that you're doing in school. Your being involved in a lot of things. But the most important thing is you visiting those kids in the shelter. That shows me how much you care about the human race. God bless you all through your life and remember what you do to others, they will do for you. Never forget that. My love for you is forever. -Dad

So the time has finally come. Where I get to watch you graduate and move into the world of adulthood. Though it only seems like yesterday that you were following me everywhere, climbing on top of me and always wanting to be with me. Now, I'm lucky if I see you for a quick minute as you're on your way out the door. I never imagined that I would be asking YOU to hang out with ME! It's supposed to be the other way around, right? To think that the day would come that I would want you to go places with me and spend time with me. I remember a time that I would beg my mom to not make me bring you places! But, looking back I treasure all those times with you. From playing restaurant, to coloring with you, to fighting with you to comb your hair. I look back and laugh at the memories of you throwing yourself on the floor and pouting when you didn't get your way. You have developed into a beautiful, intelligent young woman. And I couldn't be prouder to be able to call you not only my sister, but my friend. I love you and just know that I am so very proud of you. Continue reaching for the stars and never give up on your dreams. Life isn't worth living if you don't have anything to strive for. No matter what happens in our lives, or where the road may lead us, I will always love you and you will always be my Stephushka!

Love Charlene

Congratulations Hazel!

Anak, we are so very proud of you and your accomplishments. This is one of the milestones that you will encounter in your life. The road ahead of you will be a colorful journey, but we know you can do it Always smile & keep your head up! Remember, we will be here for you and we love you!! YOU'RE OUR BABY!!

Michelle,

Thinking of you brings a gentleness, kindness, brains, and an extreme love of laughter (and sports). You're a beautiful young woman who loves life and cannot stay angry at anyone for more than a second. Your sense of humor brings us joy and makes us laugh everyday. We are so proud of you and the choices that you have made. When you want something, you go out and get it. As you face tomorrow, believe in yourself because we believe in you. You will always have our love and support. Congratulations!

Denise,

16 years ago, your prized possession was your "binky" and now it's your telephone, or maybe your driver's license! What happened to all those years in-between? These years in high school have created many memories that you will take with you wherever you go. Our hope for your future is that you keep an enthusiasm for life, cherish your friends and family, be compassionate toward others and never lose faith. We love you and are proud of you.

Tina: Chick, we have been through so much since 7th grade. Over the years you have become my bestest friend, Remember all the times we went to Wendy's. HaHa! STAY BLONDE.

Haydee: We have grown a lot together. 1st grade to now, well, hasn't that been a rollercoaster ride. But we have good memories like bird poop, and popsides. HaHa!

Lizbeth: Chica te quidas, and I hope to see you around one day in the sky. Thank you for always making me laugh. Take care and be good with those piasas.

Girlys thank you for always being there for me, especially when I needed you guys the most. I love u girls. (in a friendly way, Haydee) See you girls later alligators.

Love Always, Cristina

Well, this is it girls, high school is done and overwith! Seems like yesterday we were worrying about not finding our classes and being late. What can I say about our lunches... Yeah, we were cool. HeHe. We've been through a lot and things have changed since freshman year, but yet, we've still stayed good friends. After all, we do have history together dating back to the 7th grade. HeHe. To all of you guys, thanks for listening to my problems and confiding yours with me, for the many laughs we've had, for your sympathy during hard times and for the help with school. Good luck in the future and we must continue to keep in touch. Buh Bye for now.

Your friend,
Tina Thuen

Cristina: Hey gurl.. Well doesn't time fly by so fast? I still remember when we used to kick it together in first grade. Te quiero...De todo lo que pasamos juntas? leaving elementary school behind. Then moving on to junior high up until where we are now getting ready to go out to the world. Almost grown but let's not make this a good bye. sino solo un simple recuerdo.

Tina: Well Ms. Tina Marie Thuen, it's been six long years of knowing you and doing so many things together all these guys have gone through your life... j/p... well its kinda nice having us all together even though we all have something different about us than from we all first become one group. Thanks for being there during all these years. Good Luck.

Haydee: Que Paso Plebita..? Huh..? That didn't sound right porque aqui la plebita soy yo.... Bueno thanks for everything ever since kindergarden. Te de cuando estab-mos en el kinder..? Hasta todas esas veces que no la pasamos juntas con las heladas por un lado y tocando our song " mi gusto es" pero remember those dayz aren't over yet... todavia nos faltan muchos momentos mas. Well my girls best of luck in the future.

Hey girls, look how much we've grown. We have gone through so much together. From boyfriends to life's challenges. From the good to the bad, From laughter to tears. We've always been together. I still remember us sitting on the floor eating our lunch in junior high. Now, we sit in our cars. As we slowly grow apart through the years. It will only give us more of an excuse to stay even closer to each other. All that I ask of life, is to continue being together and to grow older and closer to each of you. Always remember that we all have each other, that we have loved each other. Not as friends but as sisters because you are all my sisters.

TO MY BESTEST FRIEND!
There is so much that i want to say to you that this little space is not even close to enough . But it's okay because I'm going to have the rest of my life to tell you how special you are to me? I am so grateful to God that he has sent me an ANGEL from above to guide me throughout my tough tribulations. The roads ahead of me were rough but you came in and made it smooth and cleared the way for me. You are like my oxygen that I need everyday. Your support and kindness is essential to me life. You mean the world to me and I LOVE YOU FOR THAT!...I can go on and on but let's just say...to be continue..
GENNA

TO MY GORGEOUS PRINCESS!
You have always been there for me thru thick and thin. You always listened to all my problems, and gave me advice. I can't look back at all those wonderful years and imagine you not there! You have always made me laugh, forget my problems and thankful that I'm alive. You have been my strength, courage, hope, best-friend and sister, all these years. You have been the sister I never had and you always will be. I will always treasure every moment and second I have spent with you. Remember, WEDNESDAY'S will always and forever be "Genna-Sahar Days"! This is not a good-bye, so don't even think it's the end because it's NOT! Thank you my dearest friend, sister for everything! I love you! SAHAR

JFK Yearbook

The Legend

Many will never know what went on "behind the pages" of creating the yearbook. The never ending deadlines, computer and printing problems,and the countless times Mrs. Clark said, "that picture isn't good enough, get another one!"

This is not just a book someone will read and give away to the next. It is a timeless collection of memories. These years of high school are only lived once and can only be captured once. As a yearbook staff, each of you have contributed to this timeless collection and made this book come alive. What a great gift. I know that working some extra hours and spending it in yearbook was not the highlight of you days, but the end product is great. Thank you makingKennedy a place Iwant to come to work each day. I respect each of you and and proud to have had been a part of your years at Kennedy. I wish each of you the best in all your endeavors. Remember to follow your dreams.

With Titan Spirit forever, Mrs. Dee Clark :)

Remember: Keanu & Elvis are sexy but don't compare to Charlie Brown. Chuck: Thnx 4 the smiles..ur the biggest IM tease! U will always be in my <3. My lil baby!

-Ashley Clawson

Girls-My 1st year here was great, I was able 2 meet ya'll. I know I'm lucky to call each of you a friend. I've only known ya'll this year, but hopefully we'll all have "Never-ending friendships" like that never-ending pasta. :-) Each of U are blessed 2 have lots of friends that are so sweet & friendly. I don't know what I would've done, if I hadn't met U or hadn't been introduced to U."TRULY GREAT FRIENDS are hard to find, difficult 2 leave, & impossible to forget." Ya'll deserve the best! *Britt: 1 more year! (04)

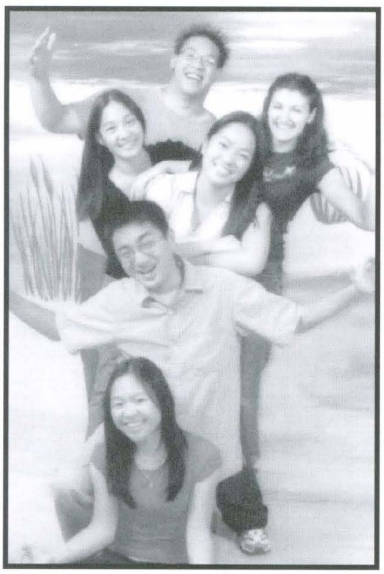
"Dear Individuals who still exist as my frens, fallin into the Gap wit u guys was a enless journey. sent wit godspeed, we've been in N out of the ditches together may our frenship last 4ever Though one of us has fallen,may his wishes & beliefs come true. Catinaniggah,4 door allan jay, ive been indulged wit your idle love,since da beginin of our time, are personaliteez are 4ever intertwined, u guys appeared in my life in unique wayz by fate,It goes 2nd to none our journey's are never meant to be done"

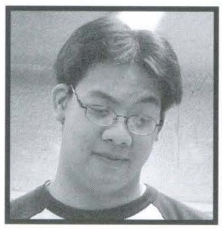
it ain't so bad bein the only girl! not fair, iyono? but how bout we just do our thang 2 "juss gimme da light"? BERT - "DNH" HA! Kooya wat happened!? ARGH! I thought u knew, guess not? ARM - "tees me!" orange pee is koozies. Finish ur 99-cent Jack in the crack! U wanna spot me? ALAHN - 4 door red dragon! We're connected w/ da chucks! Meanies b4 feezies! Where u @? HOLLA BACK!

Life sucks! But don't take it for granted people!..... I don't know if that makes sense, but it kind of sounds like a metaphorical-smart thing to say. oh aye christina..... "MEANEEZ BEFORE BREEZEEZ! holla back. armand where you at? "BROZ BEFORE..... well you know.... i dont think i can say here but you know wussup." well thanks for adding me in your little spread thing and you guys are tight people! well that's it so "Just give me the light" and LOSERS RULE!

Peas & Carrots, I will miss you all incredibly. The memories I hold most dear are those I have made with you. Somewhere between classes, badminton, inside jokes, night tag, spontaneity, prom craziness, & giggles I found amazing friends. Lan: thankful always for all the advice; you're brilliant. Jeremy: stay hilarious even when you're a grandpa and lose all your hair. Victor: routine sarcastic comments and playing the system talks were highlights of my days. Victoria: perspective indeed, you multitalented angry squinting monkey! Wendy: the amusing, HP crazed years were a blast. AA battery powered all the way! ^o^ Love you all!

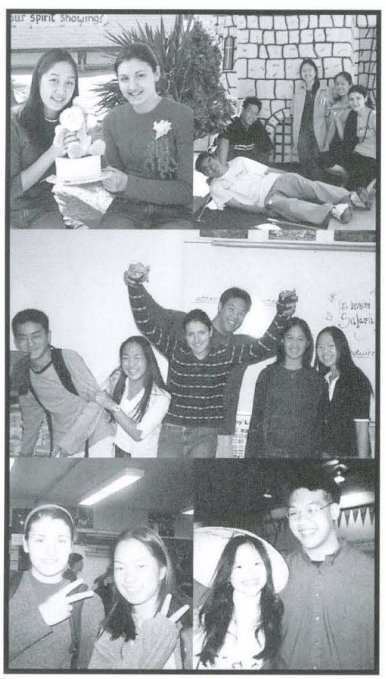


Lan - you've been corrupted! Call me if you be #1 in my book(and my school) haha eyes* thanks for watching simpsons so I Vic- I got my carpet back! well cheese in a those speed bumps racer style! Vicky- Omg..bam bam & cubby peed on me! haha trap as you go along? We didn't!! haha to make "friends" haha go find your haha btw HP and SB suck...BoA rocks!



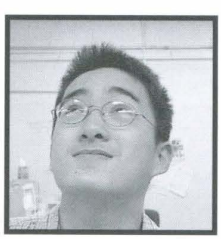
ever need to yell into the night# you'll always Paula-omg! w/o hair peep r bald?!*granny have someone to talk about it with haha cup is hella good! Dont forget to go over fuzzified! Mash potatoes on ur shoes! did you know that you build the trap in mouse Wendy- Stop being a perfectionist! we need concubines..and stop trying to tempt me!

Some say friends are the families that one chooses to be in. If that's true, I believe I've found that family. In Wendy, I've found the sister I never had. Together we've BEEn through it all & I'm glad that it was you who I shared those memories with. BIG GUY JERMS! You've always watched over me (get it?) Sorry I wasn't ever a good student in your school ^.~ My lil lan, small person with a BIG heart. Never loose sight of that, but if trouble comes your way, show them the "hardcore" Lan I know. INDEED Paula, you sre truly a special friend. Always full of...interesting sayings ^.^ Victor HUM! Never a dull moment with you around. Your fan club is out there, keep looking! ^.~ P & C! Love ya lots!



A mere 4 years ago, we stepped into unfamiliar territory but JFK has become my 2nd home, and you guys have become my 2nd family! 95% best friend and "lover," Jeremy, even our 5% days were great! And BoA is not No. 1!! Lan, my evil step-niece and planning partner, thanks for the all the great advice! Paula, my secret handshake buddy, I miss having every class with you like in jr. year! Victor, what would I be like without your influneces? And I wish I listened to you more often! Victoria, what would I do without you reading my mind all the time? I'll always remember our laughing fits! To all, thanks for putting up with me and my obsessions (HP & Alias!) and perfectionism. ^_~ Thanks for everything! I love you all! Good luck, Peas and Carrots! Cheerio, for now! ^_^

Wendy: jr. prom was the best and the I sucks, and falling into bushes Vicki: you very happish-ness Paula: I'll never forget badminton partner and friend I ever had.



told you so's, Jeremy: stealing carpet, oil made a great fan club, puppy doodles and your great driving and our nice talks Lan: best

It's hard to say good-bye to you. You guys have been there for me through my laughter & tears and are a great part of my motivation. I'll never forget PE pants w/ Vicky, wild times w/ Wendy @ 8gr. picnic, contiuous laughing w/ jeremy when we were trying to scream, evil but funny deeds to Yu-Jay from paula & me, & getting lost + cheeks hurt w/ Victor. I'll miss our K circle & getting child locked in the car. Thanks for sheltering me and a wonderful experience! I love you and I'll miss you P&C!

Goonies never say die.

Sexie.....Kind of !

Princess,

It was only yesterday that we walked you to your first day of school. Now, looking back through countless memories of Care Bears and the Little Mermaid, laughing at " I Love Lucy", singing along with boy bands and lacing up muddy soccer shoes. Where did all of our time go? Right before our eyes you have blossomed into a beautiful young lady. You have a passion to live life to the fullest and a confidence that allows you to always be yourself. Don't ever let go of the gifts God has blessed you with. Believe in yourself as we do in you. Always follow your heart. We love you!

Mom and Dad

May you never take one single breath for granted, God forbid love ever leave you empty handed, and when you get the choice to sit it out or dance... I hope you dance.

who we REALLY are

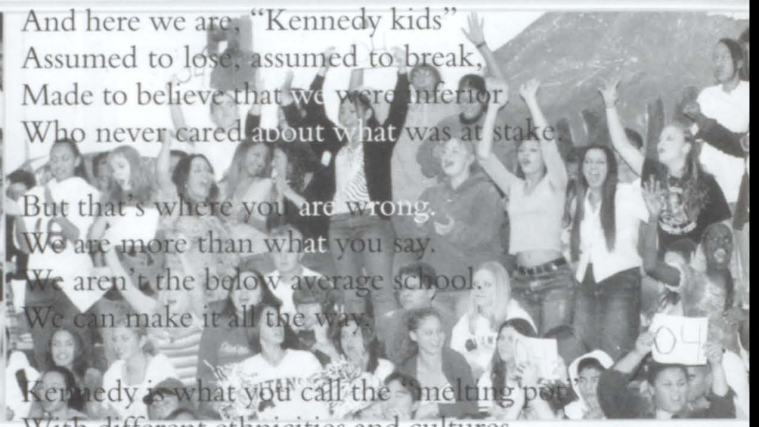
Are we what you say we are?
Are we all that bad?
Are we just one big lost cause?
Can you call us sad?

You say we have the lowest scores.
You say we can't comprehend.
You say we can't survive in this cruel world
And every turn we make is a dead end.

But don't you see the dead end is just a wall
Placed there, to block our way?
But we will break through the stereotype
And create our own pathway.



And here we are, "Kennedy kids"
Assumed to lose, assumed to break,
Made to believe that we were inferior
Who never cared about what was at stake.

But that's where you are wrong.
We are more than what you say.
We aren't the below average school.
We can make it all the way.

Kennedy is what you call the "melting pot"
With different ethnicities and cultures,
Different opinions, different stories
With dreams that never falter.

We are melted in one unified tie,
Tied in one circular loop,
Looped into a whirlwind of false statements,
Yet flew through the lies in one big swoop.

This is where our courage steps in
With the will to learn and the will to succeed.
We bury the remarks and hold our heads up high
Still continuing to exceed.

We make our school what it is.
We are who we choose to be.
We are everything...
